Overview, Purpose and Intent

Overview, Purpose and Intent

General Overview Statement

This project is an integrated and comprehensive expression of twenty-five years of development, extensive global networking and deep research into the nature and structure of the world system with respect to the primary fields of law and money. Its primary design and purpose is to create a global system for education and media, with regional locations of physical implementation and an integrated virtual private network (henceforth “VPN”) for broadcasting and related access requirements. The foundation of the education is built on the research into the core levels of the true history and structure of the world system, in order to provide awareness as to how we have arrived to the current condition that controls and directs the world, its people and resources, and to redirect our capacities, supported by that awareness, towards building a new world system that works for all concerned (the world as a whole, every human being, and all life and ecological systems) with solutions that are balanced and integrated.

The foundation of a new solution-based paradigm is the parallel tracks of the twenty-first century electronic “railroad”, i.e., banking/finance and communication/data. Both of these have emerged into the twenty-first century as mirror images of each other, essentially a digital technology in which money is data and communication technologies are the platform upon which that data is stored, secured, directed and applied. On that foundation the corresponding component of physical site development is posited as “Living Universities” where an integration of community design, communications nexus, active learning systems, dynamic land based models, project incubation and new technologies are built on the land in a whole system design. These in turn are presented worldwide by a global media structure for virtual access and social community interaction where the real time education, project development and implementation are accessible to the larger global community to access, utilize and direct for their own purposes locally and regionally.

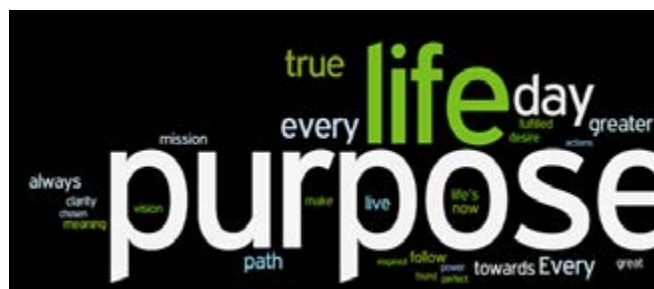

So to begin, the reader is directed to hold an image in one’s mind: Picture a house. The foundation is the banking/financial network facilitated by the data/communications platform. The framing, walls and support systems are the project & technology development and applications thereof for real world implementation and solutions, and the roof is the education and media to provide global access and to link up the regional locations worldwide, as well as to provide the outreach and interactive dialog necessary for this to have an impact in real world terms. It is all encapsulated in a lawful framework of a private society in which any and all are invited to participate by and through the enclosure of a private contract association and private membership structure.

Defined Purpose and Intent

Our intent and purpose is to bring the best of all possible applications and solutions into an integrated whole system model. It is also to be a point of convergence through a media alliance of a wide range of voices and investigative research, and to provide the end users a comprehensive, integrated, dynamic and self-directed customizable system that each member can utilize for their own purposes and interests. It is about the development templates, models and prototypes in which the people of the world can re-purpose their lives and communities to build a better future. It is about being a focal point for education, awareness, and real time applications of emergent, leading-edge technologies, models and systems to build a world that is best for all. It is about learning to live balanced lives and to remediate the damage that the human species has wrought on this planet.

Overall, our purpose is one of stimulating the human race to raise itself up to a manifestation of its full potential. We must do this by removing the shackles that we have accepted and allowed in this world, the results of which are self-evident all around us, and redirect our creative capacities to build a better future. It encompasses an understanding of the nature of the problem in the structural misalignment of our most fundamental systems, namely the law and the monetary structure, because these infuse every action, every event and every institution in the world, as well as the lives of every living being and that of their families, their communities and their nations. Law and Money underlie the nature of the problem as to the control and dominance of an old world system that is hierarchical in structure, and that is dominating and delimiting of the world population to the benefit of the few and the extreme detriment of the many. This system only provides for the ones at the top without regard to the consequences or results of their lack of foresight, whether purposeful or in ignorance, as to the logical outflow of such consequences for all concerned.

When we state that our intent is to contribute to building “a world that works for and is best for all”, that is not just the human community. It is inclusive of all living beings and systems. Fundamentally, our purpose is to make this understanding the basis of new self-evident awareness, as we must by necessity leave behind the old age of self-interest and destruction, which has heretofore operated and manifested without repercussions to those at the top. We are now moving into a new era as an Age of Consequences. We can no longer ignore or shuffle aside the egregious consequences that we have collectively perpetrated on all living systems in this world. We are at the precipice of either profound change or precipitous collapse. The choice and the responsibility are ours and none other. There are many who are anxiously awaiting salvation or rescue from an external source, but it is obvious that no such thing shall take place. In the end, we must face ourselves and take full responsibility for all of it, the disease, the poverty, the environmental degradation, the collapse of living systems and the massive imbalance in this world. As our mothers, or at least some of them, said to us when we were young: “It’s your room, you made the mess, you clean it up!”

This same message applies now. We made this mess; it is our responsibility to clean it up!

Therefore, the foundational intent and purpose of the herein presented Master Plan is to build a system that contributes to the solution of cleaning it all up by redirecting our efforts, energies and capacities towards a world that is best for all. We can think of no better tools to apply to this than that of education and media. Thus, our focus is as a global system of educational media that stands together in oneness and equality with all of life, all peoples, all beings, all races and all human and living systems. That is why we are called the GEMSTONE Global Media Alliance, as GEMSTONE stands for Global Educational Media

Standing Together One and Equal and is equally expressed as Global Educational Media Serving The ONE, that one being all of life and all who are here to make a difference in this world. We are standing as an alliance in education and media, so that all those who have been building similar and complimentary expressions, and those with intentions to do so in the future, might come together to benefit from our deep research in how the world has really been constructed and how we can utilize that understanding to everyone's support and benefit in this task. There is balance and abundance awaiting for us all if we step into our manifested potential, and we are here to support all who are endeavoring to fulfill their potential in this purpose and intention, to align together and build in mutually beneficial and supportive ways to achieve such a goal.

Global System of Land Based Living Universities

The grounding of this project in physical and real world terms is an integrated global network of land based "Living Universities". Which, of course, raises the question: "What is a Living University?" The answer to that is simply stated: A Living University is one that is established as a land based community; it is a dynamic integration of real time education, project incubation, prototype and system modeling, and resource-technology-life systems structures that are developed in balanced and synergistic methods, all of which are integrated with a communications and data system nexus that facilitates the activities in the community and links any given location to the entire global VPN system. It is also inclusive of the fact that those who are working, teaching, learning and applying all of this are living in the community and learning the tools and building the templates for that particular community, while at the same time sharing local discoveries with the global network and providing a resource for others to visit, to learn, and to take away to build on their own. The learning process is equal to the living of the principles, which is to be immersed in an environment that is dynamic and alive with an actual curriculum that has real life applications. It is a system within which there is no separation between teacher and student, or a rigid structure of patterned and repetitive indoctrination; rather, it is a system of vibrant learning. Therefore, one can come for a day, a week, a month, a year or a lifetime, whatever suits the individual needs and purposes.

This concept is one that posits that old methods of education are outmoded and do not in any way prepare the student for the real world. The old educational model is more of a systematized method of indoctrination and conformity, designed to produce graduates that are prepared to fit into the world paradigm of corporatism and hierarchical government, economic consumerism and to conform to a world model that has resulted in the problems and issues we have today in this world. A new educational model is established on dynamic systems, in which the student is an active participant in the creation of the curriculum and in the implementation of the real world applications that are developed and that emerge from the educational process. Ultimately, in short, such a model is founded on the principle to prepare the student for the change in this world that is the wave of the future, and most importantly, to be part of that change, both while engaged with his or her educational process as well as when they step into the world and active careers.

Another element of a “Living University” is that it is constantly evolving and expanding. It is not created as a static curriculum, but is an interactive system that is actively participating in the world, both locally as well as globally. It is one that engages and integrates with the local cultures, peoples, communities and nations. It is one that encompasses the breadth and depth of life and supports each and every participant at whatever level they are participating in within the larger whole. It is one in which the whole is very much greater than the sum of the parts, but equally so, each part is an integral whole unto itself and is supported in whatever ways necessary to encourage the individual to reach for and achieve his or her highest potential.

With respect to the development of new projects and technologies, the land-based university is where these elements are brought together, incubated and applied. Such things as new methods for housing, materials, energy, water systems, recycling, food resources, forestry, environmental design, animal husbandry, and many more practical requirements for life support and balanced integrity of the whole system will be developed and applied within the Living University and community environment.

Key to this concept is the intent to build the foundation for education and media as a method to support new generations so that they are guided and educated as to their responsibilities and requirements, for they are the ones who will inherit both the mistakes of the preceding generations as well as the solutions that we bring forth. A balanced approach that utilizes both the Living Universities situated throughout the world and the interconnected access through the VPN university system will provide access for families and children to utilize for support in home schooling that will open the world and its new emerging paradigm to all who are interested worldwide. Our educational model is one that shall be a legacy trust for the future. Therefore, this is a university and educational system that is designed for all ages, all races, all cultures and all people. Each local and regional location will be individualized for that specific local community and environment, while the global network will link them all together to break down barriers and limitations created by the old systems.

Of course, this establishes a primary focus on family and community, which can be seen as one of many variations and many styles. These land-based systems will be designed to be locally supportive and interactive, and overall, to promote and sustain a new sense of vitality for traditional as well as innovative models for the support and enhancement of the family and the community.

An integral part of the Living University model will be a health, well-being and rejuvenation center. Our ultimate real wealth and “currency” of prosperity is that of vibrance and vitality in the living system of our own bodies. Without that health and well-being, everything else in this model is diminished. Thus, an integral part of the model is to design and develop a paradigm where every participant is considered an equal and valuable part of the whole, not a cog in a senseless corporate wheel, that saps the life force and work out of its employees as if they are discardable chattel (which is exactly how the old paradigm views and operates upon their “human resources”). In such a new paradigm, health and vitality of the individual and the family are paramount and are part of the foundational benefit of being part of the team.

As a society, rather than a corporation that only sees its employees as a resource that must be monetized for profit and gain, the value of the living beings and their health and well being are placed as the highest priority and the highest value.

Global Network of Integrated Virtual Systems

The complimentary system that will work synergistically with the land based communities and Living Universities is the virtual global network for education and media. It will be integrated with various strategic partners that have advanced global telecommunications systems for optimizing security, privacy and ease of access. It will be started with a compendium of the best available solutions in this regard and will be continually advanced as new developments emerge. The virtual university, education and media system will be implemented within the structure of the private society and private contract association membership model (as further discussed below), thus creating a private environment that only members will be able to access. This will establish a clear separation between the current paradigm model and our intended new paradigm as described in this presentation. The former is expressed through the corporate/commercial/domestic system that does not serve the people but only binds them as chattel property to a perpetual debt system and a network of bankrupt national corporations and companies that utilize people and resources as collateral for their system of bondage and debt.

Conversely, the private society model provides an environment of freedom and liberty in which individuals, families, communities, organizations and other societies can operate and function in a more secure manner. This is also an integral part of the education and materials that will be an essential part of the content throughout the whole system. Our new model will demonstrate a method whereby people are honored and respected for the value of their lives and the fruits of their labor that build real wealth for their families, communities and nations. We do understand this is an ideal that may take the human race a hundred years to embrace, but it has to start somewhere, and this model along with its means of dissemination are our intended starting point.

Privacy and security are paramount in this model. This does not impute that it will be clandestine and obscure, quite the opposite. It will operate in full transparency so that it can interface seamlessly with the existing system, while still maintaining the integrity of its own venue and jurisdiction. With our advanced knowledge and expertise in the world system and law, this is already in effect and an established fact. PanTerra D'Oro Private Society has been operating in this manner for over a decade and especially in the last four years, with hundreds of members spread throughout the world in more than twenty different countries. Gemstone University has been under development for over three years and has achieved an advanced implementation of the intended model. This is discussed in greater detail further on in this presentation.

The intent of a global communications system in this respect is to integrate the four primary components of the model:

- Education
- Media
- Banking and Financial Management
- Secure and Private Communications and Data Systems

Thus, education and media are integrated with the same core system as banking/finance and communications/data. All this information is then conveyed and accessed within a secure and private communications platform.

A Global “Honest Money” System

What is honest money? In simple terms it is a monetary system that is established on equitable values that provide transparency, balance, fairness, stability and continuity. It is not a system in which unfair advantage is designed into the system to extract value and wealth from the general population to the extreme advantage of a fractional minority. The latter describes our current system that uses devices such as inflation, taxation, interest, derivative multipliers, and a fractional reserve system of pure fiat and elastic currency that can be manipulated and distorted to the advantage of a few to the detriment of the many.

An honest money system is one between units of value and units platforms rather than those provides methods by which the can utilize the monetary system is a system that does not use the fruits of labor, enterprise, that provides a relative parity of measure. It utilizes stable that can be manipulated, and average person or community to build value and wealth. It predatory methods to steal ingenuity and creative endeavors from those who create value by those who simply are parasites on value creation. It builds and grows real wealth as an interface with the actual physical world, rather than the computerized system of the current model that has been disengaged from the real world and economy for decades.

The utility of the primary building blocks of our model are supportive and shall facilitate the implementation and strengthening of an honest money system. Value creation is the foundation for an honest money system as well as the means to bring forward monetary constructions to support and enhance value creation. Such elements as the private, secure and encrypted communications system discussed herein, as well as emerging new systems of digital and crypto currencies, can assist in the development and maturation of an honest money system. Because our primary focus is education and media, built on the parallel tracks of banking/finance and communications/data, the concept and implementation of an honest money system is integral to this model, as the primary intent of such is to expand knowledge and awareness of how new systems and models can be created and implemented to support the new world system discussed herein.

The principles upon which an honest money system will be developed are those that underwrite this entire plan. That is, a world that is Best For All, with a foundation of balanced and fair distribution of resources, a commitment to the principle that all of humanity deserves minimum levels of life support, opportunity, and a system that does not destroy life support systems at the expense of monetary or economic expediency. In our pursuit of understanding within the arena of law, what has come to the fore has been the discovery of the beauty of the system of Equity Jurisprudence, in which accepted Maxims provide a foundation of principles that in turn are ideal for points of focus in the discussion of an honest money system, including (but not limited to) the following:

Equity Delights in Equality

He Who Comes Into Equity Must Do So With Clean Hands

Equity Will Not Suffer a Wrong Without Remedy

An honest money system delights in equality and is a fair and balanced forum for those who act in good faith and with clean hands. Equity, as with an honest money system, delights in equality, whereby all have an equal opportunity to achieve success, to build value, to sustain their lives and their families and to build a better world. An honest money system, as with equity, will not suffer a wrong without a remedy, so a common forum to achieve equitable relief is integrated within the honest money system.

In practical terms, an honest money system provides a low barrier to entry so that financial resources are accessible to all with a sincere desire to utilize the system to create value for themselves and the community at large. It is a system that does not unduly bind the participants in a manner that will ultimately be the demise of their project, business or whatever else they seek to achieve. The current system is a stacked deck that sets up those who generate value creation as mere cannon fodder for harvesting by the cyclical and artificial patterns of the system that have been used for centuries to concentrate wealth, power and control at the top. In this sense, the concept of an honest money system will be one that infuses the entirety of the project, its style of education and its guiding principle for media and content.

Global Network of Private Societies and Media Alliance Members

➤ WHAT IS A PRIVATE SOCIETY?

The concept of a private society has been well established in English law for many hundreds of years, having been first applied to the formation of self-governing groups such as fraternities, guilds, churches and similar bodies. The private society is recognized as having the ability to establish its own law form, court, treasury, private bank and governing structure. It is an ideal form for many projects and organizations pursuing humanitarian purposes, environmental work, community development and similar purposes. It is recognized as a form of social and political organization, as stated in the first article of the Law of Nations by Emerich Vattel which has been the leading principle for international relationships since its publication in the 1770s:

“A NATION or a state is, as has been said at the beginning of this work, a body politic, or a society of men [and women] united together for the purpose of promoting their mutual safety and advantage by their combined strength.

“From the very design that induces a number of men to form a society which has its common interests, and which is to act in concert, it is necessary that there should be established a Public Authority, to order and direct what is to be done by each in relation to the end of the association. This political authority is the Sovereignty; and he or they who are invested with it are the Sovereign.”

This shows us without any question that a “Society” is recognized throughout the world as both a Nation and a Sovereignty. Being as all law is fundamentally based on contract, a Private Contract Association as a Society is capable of establishing itself as a peer amongst the societies of men and women in our world. We can also see this in the statement issued at the Vatican II council (within the Lumen Gentium, eighth paragraph, issued as a formal statement from the Second Vatican Council of the Catholic Church, where it is stated that the Church is: “constituted and organized in the world as a society...”

PanTerra D’Oro (henceforth “PTDO”) has existed as a society since 2001, initially noticed to the world on February 26, 2002. A complete record of the history of the noticing process to all relevant levels of the world system can be found at: <http://www.panterrapca.org/public-notice>. It is characterized as an Ecclesiastical Body based on the fundamental fact that all governing bodies in this world are ecclesiastical in form and character. This does not mean this or any other society is of necessity a religious or spiritual body (although in our case our motivating principle is essentially that of a spiritual nature in that we are dedicated to the fulfillment of a true transformation in this world out of the abyss of war, polarity and destruction into one founded on the spirit of unity, oneness and equality for all), but more fundamentally the word ecclesiastic is derived from the Greek “ekklesia” which means the “body of the congregation”. A congregation is a gathering of people, a coming together of “two or more” and by definition it constitutes a “body” with reference to the phrase in the quote above as a “body politic”. The Catholic Church understands this precept very well where in the quote above it references itself as “constituted and organized in the world as a society.” Thus, a society by definition is a body politic, it is an Ekklesia or Ecclesiastical Body, and thus, as a Society, an Ecclesiastical Sovereignty. By many maxims and precedents in law, it is sacrosanct, it cannot be directed by outside authority when properly constituted, and is protected by such maxims and precedents as the First Article of Amendment of the Constitution for the United States of America and the United Nations Declaration of Human Rights, inclusive of the Right of Self-Determination.

Because PTDO has properly executed a complete public notice process, it has established its private nature, sovereign capacity and ecclesiastical court as recognized by the public system. This has been held out in numerous instances with many local, state, national and international bodies responding to correspondence and tacitly recognizing the court and the society in the way such correspondence was done. This has also proven true with analysis done by legal departments with major banks that have accepted the court orders of the PanTerra D’Oro Court of the Ekklesia (henceforth “Court” or “COTE”) for the establishment of trusts that have opened accounts with such banks. Thus, our continuing utility of using the Court for such orders, and the correspondence and cognizance of the future creation of new societies, is firmly in place and established as fact.

➤ BENEFITS OF A NETWORK OF PRIVATE SOCIETIES

Many areas of endeavor have been attacked, suppressed and vilified by the existing system, including many modalities of alternative health and healing, home schooling, religious and spiritual bodies, communities attempting to utilize private scrip in lieu of fiat currencies, food cooperatives and many other similar situations. The unfortunate mistake that almost all of these make is to construct their endeavor within a standard corporate structure. The problem with this is that wherever a corporation is chartered, it is bound to all the codes, statutes and rules of that jurisdiction. It is also explicitly owned by one master corporation in this world. This includes foundations, churches, charitable organizations, humanitarian and environmental groups and the list goes on and on. The solution, if there is an existing organization that is having these problems or one that simply wishes to remove itself from the public control system and gain more privacy, is to dissolve an existing corporate structure and transpose the endeavor into a private society; and, if there is an organization, project or group that has not yet formed, a private society offers a perfect solution to start fresh with the security and privacy desired.

The key to this approach is to design and apply a multi-layered, multi-jurisdictional strategy, which constitutes one of our premium educational courses in GEMSTONE University. Such a structure provides complete flexibility and scalability that allows for change, modification and growth over time, and transcends “bordered” systems of domestic control. The PanTerra D’Oro Society has pioneered much of this understanding and has been assisting its members in reproducing the same model for their own purposes over many years. This will continue to grow and expand as we implement this full model and plan. As such, this methodology mirrors the natural process of creation in which systems birth new systems from within themselves while at the same time providing for creative variations. This system is non-hierarchical and decentralized, while at the same time providing a common ground for interaction, mutual support and benefit, and many other benefits for the societies and their members. As such, a global network of societies that have access to each other through a platform of social networking and telecommunications systems, that combines the educational and media platforms discussed herein, will support social, economic, political and spiritual convergence, shared creativity and overall support for the purposes and principles as intended by this project through its educational and media platforms.

One important point in regards to societies should be noted. The historical basis of the form of a society is rooted in English law going back at least six to seven hundred years. When The Bahamas gained independence in the 1960s they adopted the entire English law base as their own law form. Included in that were all the relevant acts pertaining to societies. As such, in recent years, this body of adopted law has been brought forward and is now embodied in the concept of what they call a “Friendly Society”. Although PanTerra did not model itself after this form, they are quite similar and structurally related. In many cases, our members do not need to create an entity that is supported by public legislation of a national jurisdiction, but in other cases this might be valuable. To review the Act that governs such entities the following link can be used to access the relevant document.

➔ http://laws.bahamas.gov.bs/cms/images/LEGISLATION/PRINCIPAL/1835/1835-0040/FriendlySocietiesAct\_1.pdf

As part of our extensive networking over the last two decades and longer, we have established important alliances with experts, companies, organizations and groups throughout the world that will facilitate the implementation and expansion of these models. In this category of the Friendly Society, as an example, we have a strong alliance relationship with one of the leading proponents of this structure who is well-established with the top levels of the political and administrative system of The Bahamas.

➤ GLOBAL MEDIA ALLIANCE

One of the primary intentions of our plan is the establishment and building of a global media alliance as a private society. The “alternative” media on the internet is rapidly superseding the so-called traditional media. The latter is a dying relic of the past, a tool of control and indoctrination utilized in conjunction with educational indoctrination and general social and economic programming to fulfill the old world agendas. The envisioned GEMSTONE Global Media Alliance (“GGMA”) shall become an architecture of support, fusion, integration and expansion for the alternative, soon to be the new main stream media. Many of the most dynamic and leading edge resources for news, investigative journalism, revelatory reporting and educational forums on the internet are struggling for either lack of financial support, misapplied structures (as discussed above in the corporate model discussion) and a general disunity due to geographical distance, financial challenges, external attacks or all the above, and more. The GGMA will be constructed to address all of these issues. As stated in the discussion above concerning private societies, the educational and media world on the internet is sorely in need of this understanding to protect the integrity of their materials from external manipulation and attack. The solution is to properly structure themselves legally and financially, to optimize privacy and security, which in turn insures their continuity and freedom of press, speech and reporting. Our foundation of understanding in law and related issues will provide the members and participants in the GGMA with all the tools they need to thrive, prosper and expand. In short, the concept and implementation of a media alliance in this target community with all the tools, support and mutual protections it will provide is an idea whose time has come.

Summary of Our Integrated Structure

In this first introductory section we have provided a brief overview of the basis, context and structure of our intended master plan and purpose. This will be more fully elaborated upon in the rest of the report. In summary, the plan calls for the following key components:

1. Creating an integrated consortium of aligned parties to build a global system for education and media, supported and enhanced by state-of-the-art telecommunications, digital security, innovative and leading edge emerging systems in monetary, banking and financial tools, intended for the mobilization of projects and new technologies, and building a support base for all participants.
2. Creating a digital meeting ground for all participants, alliances and associated parties to expand awareness of true history and the world system, in order to know where we have come from and to direct where we wish to go in building a new world that is best for all.
3. This would be in the form of a media alliance with complimentary global educational media system. The internet based media and broadcasting system will be complimented with regional land-based communities as Living Universities for incubation, maturation and points of distribution of the accrued knowledge, intellectual property, projects, technologies and the ongoing development of this plan.
4. Creating a curriculum that breaks new ground in the educational process on this planet so that the truth of our past and the potential of our future can be understood and realized.

Key Building Blocks

Key Building Blocks

Education and Media

Education is the foundation and bedrock of our plan, and is indeed the same for the objective of world transformation. It is ignorance and unfounded beliefs (that in turn develop into acceptance, allowance and acquiescence) that have supported the development of the world system that we have today; therefore, it is education and understanding of the real history and current condition of the world that will provide the basis for transformation. It goes without saying that the control of the world population has been achieved through the institutionalization of ignorance through public schools and controlled mass media. Now we have the technological capacities to reverse or transform that, and only need the mobilizing capitalization to realize that intention.

The center piece of our plan is to be a leading voice, as originator and consolidator of the highest quality content, to package that content into a universally accessible system (virtual/global broadcasting and university style structure) and to be a leader in the organization of the emerging new media by means of the aforesaid media alliance. Thus, GEMSTONE University as the online forum for education, GEMSTONE Productions as the originator of quality content, GEMSTONE Media Alliance as the “consolidator” of the best of the available and emerging voices, content producers and historically developed content and materials, all delivered into a very unique system to the end user through the GEMSTONE Network. The Living Universities will be regional locations as gathering points for the best in each field to come together and present their research, findings and technologies, which in turn can be broadcast live through the GEMSTONE Broadcasting Group and integrated within and accessible to all through the GEMSTONE Network, and archived into the university system for ongoing self-directed (or virtual classroom style) access.

Communications and Data

The PanTerra D’Oro Society founders and charter members have, over the last twenty to thirty years, immersed themselves within the arena of telecommunications and data systems. In the mid 2000s, an attempt to launch this project was undertaken and a funding mechanism was secured. Unfortunately, that funding was set to activate in September 2008, which was right when the current banking and monetary crises were started. Thus, the funding never materialized. Nevertheless, during the ten preceding years our team was extensively involved in the field of communications and data, including being founding investors in a telecom company that obtained one of only eight Tier One licenses in Mexico as well as investors in a company that in 2004 was named one of two Partners of the Year in the IBM ten-year program to bring forward what was known as “Autonomic Computing Systems”. During the period leading up to that anticipated 2008 funding the telecom/data track was extensively developed as well. This involvement established the foundation of our focus in understanding the critical nature of an integrated approach of communications and data as an adjunct to banking/finance/monetary systems.

This understanding led to positing the foundational principle of this plan, that these two focuses are in effect the new railroad of the twenty-first century; in other words, two parallel tracks upon which the new revolution (after the Industrial) would run. This has proven to be exactly the case in the ensuing ten years and is now well established. The emergence of the digital/crypto currency revolution is a firm validation of the forward envisioning that we had ten plus years ago, because now the two parallel tracks have merged, where the manifestation of data being one and the same as “money” has come to pass. Now, the digital currency revolution poses the pre-eminent pathway of emergence out of the bondage of the old system of monetized debt and the realization of a method of circulation, value retention, depository function and value exchange that can be issued, secured and controlled by the people without the interference and manipulation of the money changers in the temple, using their tools of distortion and manipulation to extract the equities and the wealth from the creators of it and burden those creators with the weight of the ensuing debt.

Of course, aside from the monetary context, our education and media platforms will also ride the “rails” of the data/communications revolution, which has matured well beyond where it was fifteen years ago when this intention was first constructed, so now the convergence of the digital currency system with the matured data/communications system for educational and media content delivery have come together in a synchronistic moment of perfect timing. In this regard, some of the key components (as examples of past partners and current alliances) of this convergence within the scope of our plan include (but are not limited to) the following:

➤ UNSEEN/SAFE.CASH

Unseen (www.unseen.is) has emerged recently as a leader in the field of private encrypted/secure comprehensive communications platforms that includes instant chat, group chat, audio and video phone. It is based in Iceland which provides a safe jurisdiction free from the encroachment encountered in most other jurisdictions throughout the world that squelch innovative or disruptive technologies that threaten the status quo. It has established a globally distributed server system that is now being advanced with a user based mesh system to avoid the potential of an internet collapse or advancing censorship. Its “Safe. Cash” technology is a complete e-Wallet for both fiat and crypto currencies, and can be custom designed for proprietary use and applications.

➤ eSPIN

We have been associated with the principles of this group since the late 90s, the inventors of an extraordinary technology that utilizes a “spin” of a normal propagated wave transmission into an omni-directional sub-strata of the normal hertz based frequency bands. There are many unique features to this technology, including the ability to create the most secure Virtual Private Networks available and the fact that the power level required to boost the signal is measured in nano watts and can be used in existing devices without having to retool the entire system currently in place. The benefit of that power level is it completely eliminates the deleterious effects of current technology on the body and the brain. They are now experimenting with many other applications including enhanced agricultural output facilitated by the eSpin wave form delivering super oxygenation to the soil.

➤ SATCOM

This group developed the first concept of a low orbit satellite mesh system for complete global coverage with flying units that are recoverable for upgrades and repair. Their original concept of a hand held device called the “librarian” was the access interface to the global coverage of the satellite system that functioned as the repository of the data and the delivery method of the communications. They worked with Stanford Research Institute in the 1990s and the world’s leading satellite expert to bring this together, but as usual for those times, were undermined by circumvention, greed and government intrusion and outright theft of ideas and technology. It was soon after that period that Apple suddenly emerged with its first hand held device in the form of the iPhone, which was suspiciously similar to the design of the librarian. Nevertheless, this system can be brought forward once again or now existing components or systems can be accessed and integrated to construct the same purpose.

The whole idea, ultimately, is to have our own proprietary data and archive repository, combined with the delivery system, transmitted by and through secure methods that eSpin and Unseen, among others, can provide, direct to our proprietary devices and/or decoding applications so that only our members can have access to the materials, network and system. But, so that one does not interpret that last statement as if the intention is to exclude the majority of the world from a selective membership structure, all people are invited to be members and will be enabled to do so easily; the membership component is simply to maintain the integrity of the private society and private contract association protections as previously discussed.

These three examples are just that, examples. The plethora of potential technologies, existing and to be realized, are available to integrate a comprehensive data and communications platform that is all together flexible, dynamic, scalable, private and secure. This is the backbone for the digital currency platform and runs concurrent with the education and media broadcasting and network systems. The key is to attract participants to come on as members and create the environment that encourages creativity and innovation within a closed loop system that retains the integrity of the private society structure to maintain security and protection from the old methods of undermining anything that is innovative and transformative, as this model shall surely be. As such, the system envisioned will create a cohesive interactive trading platform in which the members will increasingly not have to seek outside of the forum to find what they need. By so doing they will be able to build their projects, communities and other expressions internally within the virtual private economy thus created. They will be able to share with others of like mind and intent, and utilize the internal mechanisms for trade, settlement and exchange without fear of outside attack or undermining influence from the old world vanguard that uses, among other things, its tool of jurisdiction as a means of control and suppression.

Crypto Currencies and Trading Platforms

Crypto and Digital currency is the wave of the future as discussed above. A transition into that new system must be done in balance with the existing system so that it is not disruptive to the intended goals. Those goals, simply stated, as more particularly elaborated upon herein, is to build the necessary infrastructure utilizing a combination of all available resources, until such time as a reliance on the current fiat currency system can be progressively lessened and eventually eliminated. Towards this objective, we have aligned with the following strategic partners within the realm of crypto/digital currencies (but not to the exclusion of the other better known currencies such as BitCoin and others, which will be incorporated into an integrated whole system approach in this context).

Closely Related and Associated Groups and Sites:

➤ SPARTAN FOREX GROUP

❖ <http://spartanforex.com/>

One of our close strategic alliances is with the Spartan Forex group, a globally deployed forex broker and trading platform, with primary locations based in Asia. They are strategic alliance partners with the WIL Trust group (discussed below) and their combined network is quite extensive in the currency, banking, asset protection and related fields. Specifically, they have delved deep into the crypto currency arena for the last two years and have established important relationships therein, including being the first forex platform to establish a crypto forex trading system by pairing the key currencies for such trading.

The reference in this section to “trading platforms” is not referring to forex trading, but rather to the establishment of systems and platforms to utilize crypto and digital currency for exchange, settlements and general trade interface in a broader sense of the terms. That doesn’t preclude forex trading, per se (that is a choice for individuals or groups to make if and as they desire), but does mean that the emphasis is on utilization of crypto and digital currency systems to mobilize, expand and solidify the use of such for trading and business enterprise purposes. Up until recent time most of these have been forced to depend solely on the old world system of fiat currency, controlled banking and restrictive access to capital and credit for many of the world’s disenfranchised and under served. This in turn is largely responsible for the disparities of the current system and unequal distribution of the world’s resources to the benefit of the few and the often severe detriment of the many. Thus, our strategic alliance with Spartan and the other digital currency partners is anticipated to be integral within the context of the intentions of this plan towards the integration of the new digital systems with the other components of our purpose and intent. They have developed an extensive worldwide system in the banking, currency, forex, and monetary arenas that will be invaluable in our advancement of these points and principles. Additionally, Spartan has established numerous locations in Asia and is ready to open offices in Bangkok, Thailand, Surabaya, Indonesia, Hong Kong and Taiwan as soon as the necessary funds are available. These locations will become parallel points of presence for our global operations in the various fields of this plan.

➤ MONETAS AND DIGITAL FINANCE CURRENCY ALLIANCE

As of this writing a direct relationship with this group has not been established. They are included here because their goals and intentions are perfectly aligned with ours and the other groups identified in this section, so they are mentioned based on the expectation that a near future link up will take place, and the fact that their mission fits perfectly with those stated in this presentation. This group has established a solid base in Switzerland, including full cooperation with the national and regional authorities in government and the banking/financial sector. Their intent is to found and build a worldwide alliance of crypto/digital currency creators, promoters and service providers. This is known as the Digital Financial Currency Alliance.

Banking and Financial Structure

➤ GLOBAL BANKING ALLIANCE

The banking and related financial infrastructure entities are essential to this plan, as strategic partners, as in-house wholly owned infrastructure and as a basis for establishing and utilizing a seamless interface system for the various financial and monetary components as envisioned. Of course, this includes the necessity for depository facilities for both fiat and digital currencies, the ability to interface and exchange between the two, and the ultimate intention of creating an honest money system in which the members of our society, associated societies and any other like-minded organizations, groups or individuals that wish to participate and interact with the intended system can meet, exchange, settle accounts and do all other functions of monetary, banking and financial interaction.

Some of these partners and alliance associates have established their banks or related structures. Others are in formation, while ours are “on the drawing board”. In the future, more will come along and be interconnected.

➤ IN-HOUSE BANKS

The “Montsegur Group” has been one of our strategic partners for many years. It has a combined focus of banking and international forensic security and investigation capacities. Its two primary intentions are to charter one or several private merchant and international banks, with focuses in The Bahamas, Belize and Vanuatu, and to establish and implement a global intelligence network for vetting, security, forensic investigation and any other function as required in these essential requirements. The Montsegur Group and PTDO have been associated for over eighteen years and intend to collaborate in these endeavors. All necessary prerequisites are in place and only await the necessary capital to mobilize and implement these plans.

Updated March 2017: Soon after the original version of this Master Plan was written and published, we initiated our plans to establish banking facilities in The Bahamas. That country has a legislative basis for the establishment of “Friendly Societies”, which are private societies established in the same manner as the PanTerra D’Oro Society was created and structured. The Bahamas adopted in toto the English body of law when it was granted independence. In that body of law is the entire basis for the creation of private societies, which The Bahamas calls “Friendly Societies”. Although they have been creating such types of societies for the last fifty years, in recent years, due to significant pressure from the world system, they have been forced to severely limit its availability. Why? Because the Friendly Society is one of the most secure and private types of entities in the world, and being as they are established under the legislative authority of the country, it has immediate access in the banking sector as a private bank. In January of 2016, PanTerra D’Oro worked in tandem with the Montsegur Group and its close associates and partners in The Bahamas (who have access to one of the few remaining channels to establish new societies) and formed the Panterra Friendly Society. This, in turn, is nestled in the larger holding society known as the Sovereign International Friendly Society. We have worked diligently during the last twelve months to put this all in place and now have our own private bank that is secure, private, anonymous and operational.

The Panterra Friendly Society and its private bank is not a public retail institution. Rather, it is a private treasury for the society that is able to manage funds for private members of the PanTerra D’Oro Private Society, by and through proper layered structures. We have established a Capital Fund for such placements, and are currently building the private placements, diversification and management for the Fund that will provide security, privacy and anonymity, as well as some of the most leading edge opportunities in the emerging new world economy. Additionally, all systems for individualized portfolio management are underway in development and will be fully online during the year 2017.

➤ ASSOCIATED BANKS

The International Organization of Community Sharing (“IOCS”) has been based in the South Pacific island nation of Vanuatu since the early 1990s. Their relationship with the government, ministry of finance and central bank is firmly in place. Their private international bank was activated in 2014 (“Vantu Bank”) and has been building its foundational infrastructure and correspondent relationships over the last year. As further detailed below, IOCS is the largest landholder in Vanuatu and has extensive plans to develop the land in an integrated manner similar to the intentions of PTDO. We have been associated with them for approximately seven years, and have linked them with most of the other associates and alliance groups discussed in this presentation. For further detail refer to:

❖ <http://www.iocs.info/i/>

❖ <http://vantubank.com/>

The Vantu Bank executive team has been drawn from top level professionals in the banking and investment industries, each with decades of experience and extensive worldwide relationships in place. Additionally, a subsidiary entity Vanuatu Registry Services (www.vrs.hk) formally represents the country of Vanuatu in Hong Kong as the appointed Deputy Commissioner of the Vanuatu Financial Services Commission.

➤ ANTICIPATED FUTURE ALLIANCES

Amongst our strategic alliances there are future entities throughout the world that are anticipated to emerge as in-house, strategic partners or arms length but closely aligned banking and financial sector relationships, acquisitions or charters. This includes numerous existing banks currently in discussion for acquisition in Thailand and the Netherlands. Overall, the intent here is to build on the existing relationships, to charter our own in-house entities and to expand our network as we grow and build moving forward.

Ultimately, the principle that all of this is based upon is that of cooperative co-creation; it is not about a hierarchical ownership of a vast conglomerate, but rather about a distributed model of alliances, strategic partnerships where and when they make sense and mutual support based on complimentary, contributory and like-minded collaboration.

➤ PRINCIPLE OF THE TRANSFER MECHANISM AND THE RECEPTACLE

In short, this principle speaks to the fact that our collective past is one long story of the creation of a world system based on consumption and extraction of value and wealth from the totality of human effort and industry, in order to aggregate that wealth into a containment field for the use of the select few. That containment field is known as money. It is a controlled system. It has built-in, inherent and systemic principles designed for world control. Its result is one of depletion and diminishment of living systems and its end goal is one of dominance and iron fisted control of the world, its people and all its resources. Solutions cannot be engaged within the rigid ligatures of its binding nature. An apt metaphor to understand this is to look at modern medicine, which is largely based on the cut, burn and poison model. Our approach to the environment and its challenges is essentially the same. And this approach results in the fact that the cure inevitably kills the host. In medicine we radiate and burn the body to make cancer go away; in the end, the cancer might go away but the human ends up dead. The same is true for our isolationist approach to environmental issues or agriculture, to name but a couple of examples. All of this is to say that, in the end, you cannot fix a problem with the same component parts that were used to create it in the first place; you must transfer your motive capacities from one containment field to a new receptacle and you must build that new receptacle on new principles and new models. In this discussion, that motive capacity refers to what we call money, and that translates to the fact that the current methods and mechanisms of money will not in any way work in the new world model, the new receptacle.

Therefore, we must have a transfer mechanism that moves the stored wealth and value of the world system into a new receptacle. That new receptacle is the new model that our plan is intended to research, develop, coalesce and design for educational and media-based platforms to deprogram those already steeped in the belief that there is no other way other than the current reality model, and rebuild new programming of new methodologies and understanding within a new receptacle that is inherently insulated and can withstand the attempts to undermine and destroy any such disruptive new models. This is, in essence, what our overall purpose and intent is founded upon, and intends to build with this plan. Therefore, the use of digital currencies and other methods of new value creation, into a sustainable model that cannot be debased by the old paradigm system is the combination of what we call the transfer mechanism and the receptacle. It is about transferring the wealth from the old to the new, and having a receptacle that is properly structured and insulated from the onslaughts of the old.

Development Participants and Groups

The following entities, groups or consortiums are part of the current network of in-house entities, relationships, partnerships and alliances in place at this time

1. PanTerra D'Oro Society (California, Costa Rica)
2. GEMSTONE University (California, Costa Rica)
3. PanTerra D'Oro Court of the Ekklesia
4. Anishinabe Government of Turle Island, Anishinabe National Bank ("ANB")
5. The Sovereign International Bank
6. WIL Trust (Costa Rica)
7. Spartan Forex (Hong Kong, Thailand)
8. Montsegur Banking and Intelligence Group (California, Bahamas)
9. Panterra Friendly Society and Sovereign International Friendly Society (Bahamas)
10. Unseen/Safe Cash (Iceland)
11. Perez, Castillo y Asociados (Panama)
12. Current Active Projects:
13. Trina Artificial Pancreas Systems (Diabetes Support Clinics)
14. Arthur Groom & Company - Global Emerald and Gemstone Project (New York, New Jersey, Dubai, Hong Kong, Afghanistan, Colombia)
15. Sample Project Partners and Associated Groups
  - a. International Organization of Community Sharing (Vanuatu, Hong Kong)
  - b. Kairos Technology Group (California, Thailand)
  - c. Searl Technology Group (California)
  - d. Butler Project Group (Texas)
  - e. African Dream Project (Egypt)
  - f. Jewel of Africa Project (Nigeria)
  - g. IOCS (Vanuatu)

This is only a small sampling of our extended worldwide network of members, partners, associates and alliances. These are only really examples of projects, as it is well beyond the scope of this document to attempt to present a comprehensive presentation in this regard, as we exist in an ever changing reality in which projects and people come and go. It is more about presenting a context of what types of projects and organizations fit into the model of what is being discussed in this document as an integral part of the Master Plan pertaining to project and technology development. The following provides a brief summary of these listed entities, and can provide a contextual framework for others not named, both currently known and many more as yet to be identified. Over the last twenty years we have partnered and aligned with many organizations and groups pursuing similar or complimentary agendas as ours. This list above and presented below are some of our current alliances, but it is good to keep in mind that once this project fully activates we will be reconnecting with those we have known over the years in all of the above enumerated areas of focus, and linking to many more in the future.

PanTerra D'Oro Society and GEMSTONE University

Our primary organizational structure is that of a private society. PanTerra D'Oro was founded in 2001, was formally noticed to the world in February 2002 and has been building and growing for the last fifteen years. At the moment we have approximately 700 members distributed in more than twenty countries, and growing every week. If we add to this the number of associated individuals, groups and organizations as alliances or associated partners, our numbers are in the thousands. This networking is the result of close to forty years of world travel by the founders and core team of the society, touching on more than thirty-five countries. It is by and through the history of the PanTerra D'Oro Society that the clarification and perfecting of the private society model has emerged. This includes establishing the jurisdiction, private law form, court and other elements of a society, as well as the noticing to the relevant world administrative bodies, of our existence and right to private self-determination that has been done over the last four years. All of this has been done within the understanding and knowledge of the necessary mechanisms in law and jurisdiction that are paramount and essential to perfecting this model. More detail about the PanTerra D'Oro Society and the process of perfected notice can be found at our public notice web site:

❖ www.panterrapca.org

The primary purpose of the society has been and remains the following:

1. Design the model presented herein
2. Perfect our understanding and applications of the world legal system, with primary focus on the means to lawfully remove oneself from the bondage of the public debt system
3. Organize ourselves through a private contract association structure and build a competent, educated and trained membership that would become the basis for mobilization of this model once the necessary financial resources were in place
4. Build the practical model of the GEMSTONE University as an online resource for its members
5. Expand the University model into a full global media group as further detailed herein

The PanTerra D'Oro Court of the Ekklesia

The PanTerra D'Oro Court of the Ekklesia (“COTE”) is an integral part of the private jurisdiction of the PanTerra D'Oro Private Society. As a private society, we are capable of establishing our own law form, our own jurisdiction, our own court and our own treasury for private member functions. The COTE is thus an integral part of what we have established in this regard. It provides key functions in our processes of maintaining a private court of record and archive of the private processes that our members undertake in establishing their own societies as well as engaging in the Status Correction process that we have pioneered through many years of deep research, investigation and integration. The COTE is also the forum and venue for the settlement of any internal issues or disputes among the members of the Society. The Court has issued its Articles of Establishment as to the foundational law form and functions by which it is guided in the performance of its intended purposes, based on the principles and maxims of Common Law and Equity. For further detail on the Court, please visit our public notice web site at www.panterrapca.org, and review the Articles of the Court under the Foundational Documents menu.

Private Society Model

This model is extensively discussed throughout this presentation. The importance of its inclusion as a sub-topic in this section is to highlight its function as a key building block of our model for this master plan, as well as what will be brought forward in the educational and media framework of our outreach to more participants.

There are two ways a society can be formed, one as a purely private entity without any registration in the public corporate system and the other is to utilize an optimum national jurisdiction to have that component of “public cognizance”. The latter is something that would be useful if necessary within the context of an organization’s requirements for a globally deployed interface with the current world system. The determination of whether this is required would be on a case-by-case basis. But it is important to understand that ultimately no organization is required to register itself in the current corporate system, so unless there is a specific function or purpose for the latter, the former is perfectly functional.

The key element within this general context is that of utilizing a multi-layered, multi-jurisdictional strategy. What this means is that the base or foundation of a multi-layered structure is the society itself. The society then uses a layering structure of other jurisdictions and other entities to fulfill its requirements to hold its assets and resources. These can be additional private entities such as trusts or public corporate entities such as LLCs and corporations, or a combination of both. This model and strategy provides a dynamic, flexible and scalable structure that can be customized to fit any organization, association or project.

The PanTerra D’Oro Society is a perfected example of the private model. Along with utilizing this form of a private society, PTDO has also integrated an ecclesiastical component. Although ecclesiastical refers to a religious body in most people’s definition of the word, it is not necessarily religious and need not be defined as such. The word ecclesiastical finds its root in the Greek word “Ekklesia,” which translates as “the body of the congregation”. Therefore, the society is considered a body politic, and thus fulfills the definition of a congregation, an Ekklesia, as any body that comes together for like-minded and shared purposes. This of course defines the essence of all human associations, a group of two or more people who come together to fulfill a purpose. Therefore, it is beyond reproach or ability to be challenged as something that has no right to exist. In fact, all current governments in the world are actually set up as ecclesiastical bodies, hidden of course from most people’s perception. The detail of the last point is beyond the scope of this report, but suffice it to say, it is hard-wired within the current hierarchical system of world control disseminating from the Roman Catholic Church in its posited Triple Crown global construction. So, rather than oppose the existing structure, we utilize it for our benefit and applications.

The Bahamas provides a good example of a public jurisdiction with its “Friendly Society” legislative act for forming and operating a society. This legislation is based on the fact that The Bahamas adopted the entire English law form as the basis of its legal jurisdiction when it achieved independence from England in the 1960s, including that of a private society. The private society form emerged in English law some six to seven hundred years ago and was the basis for churches, guilds and fraternities and provides the global precedent to support and defend this primary building block in our model.

Private Contract Association (“PCA”) Model

This model uses three words as building blocks, each of which has specific and important legal and lawful ramifications. Private is the first of these and refers to the fact that if one does not consent to attach oneself or an organization to the corporate structure of the world, and knows how to both define and defend that position, then one or one’s organization is private in nature. That means it is not subject to public codes and statutes. It is its own jurisdiction and has its own private law form. This law form is created by contract, as law is fundamentally contractual in nature and jurisdiction is defined within the parameters of any given contract. Thirdly, the right of association is a fundamental principle in the foundations of American law and is recognized world law as defined by the phrase Right of Self-Determination. There are extensive and detailed reasons for these three elements in combination being the form of an association in conjunction with a private society. Overall, the purpose is to enhance and compliment the one with the other in order to solidify the private standing and capacities of the society, its members and component parts.

Distributed Model for New Technology Use

A perfect example of how to see the utility and benefits of the private society and PCA model is to look at a new technology that is ready for distribution. Rather than the accepted and normal method of forming a business and corporation around the technology, raising capital by selling stocks or bonds, and then engaging in commercial methods for marketing and distribution, our model using the society and PCA can be applied. So how would that work? To answer that question, let’s look at a new energy generating technology as an example. This is of course a key focal point in that the control of the world has been largely built upon the centralized control of energy coupled with the monetary system, as further discussed below. This is self-evident when we look at a chart comparing the expansion of the money supply parallel to and concurrent with the expansion of the energy consumption of the world starting in 1971.

This was achieved after the fixed exchange rates established by the Bretton Woods agreement in the late 1940s was ended on August 15, 1971 by Richard Nixon. There was, of course, no accident in that timing. The Vietnam War had achieved the decoupling of the balanced relationship between the U.S. dollar and its ability to settle its monetary issue (Federal Reserve Notes) in gold, as the world reserve currency as was required by the Bretton Woods Agreement. At the same time, the world system was being geared up to go into an exponential hyper-accelerated expansion of petroleum consumption. So, since the dollar was by that time the only currency allowed for oil purchases, all countries had to “earn” enough of the dollar reserve in order to acquire sufficient petroleum to maintain or expand their economies. Thus, as oil consumption expanded, so did the volume of the dollar. As a result, our world today is built on the coupled relationship between energy and money, concurrent with it being structured within the standard model of corporatism and hierarchical, centralized control.

To build a new world model, this most fundamental building block must be changed. The distributive model within the structure of a private societies and private contract associations is the answer. If a group of people come together to perfect a new energy generating technology, and that group forms a private society, it can then build its “customer” base not as commercial clients, but as members of a private contract association. That PCA can establish its own rules and by-laws within the framework of the private society as discussed above. Instead of selling each unit, each member becomes a node for energy production and distribution, thus a distributed energy utility. Since we are speaking here of technologies that are not consuming oil or other extractive, depleting resources, but are rather self-generating and self-sustaining, there is no reason to distribute in the old model. Each member becomes a node of a distributed model that generates energy for the local use of the member (which can be a household, a neighborhood, a farm, a group of farms, an industrial block, a factory, or any other unit) and decentralizes the energy distribution model within the protective enclosure and controlling jurisdiction of the private society organized as a private contract association. This can be applied to many other new projects or technologies or existing industries such as food, telecommunications, cooperatives of any nature, health-promoting communities, etcetera. In short, this becomes the basis for a people-owned or community-owned distributed model.

Currently we have two groups that are pursuing the implementation of this model. See the section below under the heading of Sample Project Partners and Associated Groups.

ALTERNATIVE CURRENCIES AND MONETARY SYSTEM MODELING

There are many new systems of alternative currencies and monetary system models emerging on the planet at this time. It is clear that this ground swell will continue to grow in strength and maturity

“You can never change things by fighting the existing reality. To change something, build a new model that makes the old model obsolete.”

~ R. Buckminster Fuller

over the next few years to replace the dying system of monetary bondage through debt enslavement by bonded surety status of the world’s people. PanTerra D’Oro Society and the GEMSTONE University and Media Alliance as discussed in this document are staying informed and working on the leading edge of these activities in order to be part of this profound paradigm shift in the world system. New models that support the building and rebuilding of lives and communities is our primary focus, both in terms of utilizing our talents and intentions to be part of the creation of these new systems and models, to utilize such for supporting our in-house projects and those of other groups and organizations worldwide, and to report on these events as they unfold as an integral part of the GEMSTONE University and Media Alliance editorial and educational content. The following are just a few key relationships that we have developed as part of a much larger consortium of partners, alliances and groups that we are currently working with or intend to engage with in the near future as our Master Plan emerges into manifestation, with specific emphasis on the creation and utility of new currencies. Ultimately we envision the emergence of the “Pantero”.

Anishinabe Government of Turtle Island

The Anishinabe are considered the oldest known human social and political organization in the world. Turtle Island is the name given by these original people to the entire land mass of the planet. In recent modern history the people directing the government of Turtle Island are primarily located in North America in the geographic area that most people refer to as the country of Canada (which is only a United States corporation in actual fact, but that is another story for another time and place, so for our purposes we will simply refer to it as Canada). In the late 1800s a court case was settled in the Canadian judicial system that upheld that the original people never relinquished rights to their land and that the overlay of the white settlers was there only within the context of tenancy and not ownership. Thus, the 1894 judgment order of the case settled in favor of the original people and an account was set up to be known as the Consolidated Indian Reserve Fund. That Fund later was not too surprisingly changed in name to the Canadian Fund, to obscure the fact that the fund was in fact the property of the original people (so-called Indians) and was only under the fiduciary control of the corporate government, and not that corporation's real asset. This technique has been used over and over in many instances, most notably in Hawaii, where original people's assets are converted to a trust and negotiable account that is controlled by the occupying corporate government, and then allowed to, over time, be migrated to the appearance of a corporate asset.

The Anishinabe National Bank ("ANS") is the central bank for the Anishinabe and Turtle Island government, and has now consolidated control over the original Consolidated Indian Reserve Fund as a foundational basis for its treasury, as well as a vast compendium of other assets such as in ground assets (oil, metals, minerals), forestry, water rights, and land. The governing council of ANS has significant background and professional expertise in the sectors of banking, financial management and leading edge monetary functions, and will be utilizing the large basis of assets in its treasury to underwrite its intentions of being a leading player in the new emerging global monetary system.

The PanTerra D'Oro Society is working closely now with the governor of the ANS that has established a significant alternative banking structure as the foundation for a new world monetary system. The ANS is in turn working with upwards of 4,000 independent first people groups that are stepping forward to establish their own sovereign banking structure within the larger context of the ANS. Much detail pertaining to this will be reported on as they develop and mature, but for now, as in keeping with this Master Plan, the ANS is a strategic partner of PTDO and we will be working closely with them in months and years to come to bring forward new digital currencies and other monetary structures that will be directed towards rebuilding the lives, communities and nations of billions of people on this planet who have been marginalized and ignored by the old system. ## The Sovereign International Bank

This private sovereign bank has been chartered by top level professionals in the banking, real estate, financial and asset management sectors, in cooperation with a Lakota Sioux Nation. The "SIB" is chartered in the Lakota jurisdiction and therefore enjoys full sovereign cognizance in the world system while at the same time having all of the seamless interface requirements with the current infrastructure and world system in banking and financial management. This provides it with a unique capacity to provide a complete spectrum of banking, financial management, capital development and portfolio offerings to its clients within a private jurisdiction. PanTerra D'Oro is working directly with the principals of this group with the anticipation to connect our global consortium of banking activities with the SIB as one of the key service providers in this configuration. The SIB is dedicated to the same principles as PTDO and other alliance partners to bring forward leading edge technologies and projects within the context of what is presented here in our Master Plan.

WIL Trust and Spartan FX

The WIL Trust is an outgrowth of the Wealth International Ltd. project initiated in Central America approximately fifteen years ago. It was created and directed to fill the need of providing truly private, stable and secure methods of creating and managing international wealth and asset protection strategies for people in first world nations that determined that they owned the assets and property of their citizens regardless of location worldwide. Of course this focused in large part on the U.S. citizen, but was also applicable to Europeans and other nationalities as well. Over the last fifteen years it has established a strong reputation for integrity and security and has built its banking and asset management systems worldwide during that time. In the last few years it has shifted its attention in part to the arena of Crypto Currencies (henceforth "Crypto") and is now a leading edge provider of integrated solutions that have advanced the WIL Trust structure to include the privacy and security benefits of Crypto. The group is a strategic partner with Spartan FX (currency trading brokerage group). They have now combined and integrated their expertise in currencies, trading, hedging, crypto, exchange modalities and asset protection to provide an optimized solution for asset protection, privacy and wealth preservation. Additionally, they have teamed with some of the best services and players in the Crypto world.

Perez, Castillo y Asociados \(PCYA\) -- \(Panama\)

One of our long-time strategic associates is this Panamanian law firm, founded and directed by Carlos Perez and Ariadne Castillo, a married couple and a closely held independent firm. They have been working with the PanTerra D'Oro Society since its inception in 2002 and have become close friends and associates of ours. In the closely-knit circle of political, financial and banking interests in Panama they are well respected and have served in high positions in various administrations over the last fifteen years. Their network of associations and relationships extend throughout all of Latin America in the key sectors of law, finance, politics and banking.

Panama is a key venue for banking and entity creation and management. Its legislative acts for international corporations, trusts and foundations are excellent, and therefore are used for various purposes in the overall scheme of our global strategies and structures, as well as for our members and their projects. PCYA has been assisting many clients in these arenas for over two decades and has done so for our in-house requirements in the past, and will do so in the future. Thus, Panama will be a point of presence in our global schematic and integrated structure, which will be overseen and managed by the PCYA firm.

This fits in well with the focus of our intended first country for land-based development in Costa Rica (see below), along with the 33-country mobilization and infrastructure project of the St. Stephen Crown. We will be working closely with the PCYA firm in their involvement as managers for entities, directors of specific corporations and foundations and other important positions in the overall structure. At the same time, they are very committed to the same principles as our society with respect to mobilizing their experience, expertise, relationships and network to be part of the solution-directed purposes and intent as expressed in this document. With their close proximity to Costa Rica there will evolve a complimentary relationship between that location and Panama.

Support Systems

One of our strategic alliances is with the Segur Group -- Banking and Intelligence (Intelligence refers to research, vetting, forensic analysis, security and investigation). In this section we mention it here to direct attention to one of the key elements of the Segur Group which is forensic analysis and financial vetting services and systems. This will be an essential part of our banking, asset management and asset protection services for our members as well as the overall in-house requirements. This is further discussed below in other sections.

Current Projects

Currently our Society, by and through our subsidiary Panterra Friendly Society chartered and domiciled in The Bahamas, holds equity positions and joint venture partnerships in the following two enterprises. This is part of the larger endeavor of the Panterra Friendly Society to provide the most secure and private asset and portfolio management services for our members and associated private societies and structures, the details and services of which are only available to members of the society.

Trina Health

The Panterra Friendly Society played a key role in facilitating the securing of a master contract with the parent company of Trina Health to build a minimum of 120 clinics in the United States, utilizing its proprietary and patented technology that has revolutionized the treatment of diabetes. In short, the founder of Trina Health, Dr. G. Ford Gilbert, developed this extraordinary treatment to help his young daughter Trina who was diagnosed with Type I diabetes at the age of two. Dr. Ford shifted from his profession as a lawyer to medical school and pioneered the treatment that assisted Trina to return to a healthy childhood at the age of five. In the last 27 years the protocols of the Trina Health system have helped many thousands stabilize and even reverse the impact of this ravaging disease. Our group has negotiated the contract to build clinics throughout the United States and is soon to secure a similar contract for worldwide rights. This is in keeping with the PanTerra D'Oro Society's commitment to being part of leading edge medical and alternative health systems to provide pathways that humanity may use to return to a state of optimum health and vitality, which we see as the true wealth of our birth right and inheritance of life in this world. ### Arthur Groom & Company Global Gemstone Initiative on site mining activities in various locations throughout the world, to holding patented technologies in the area of gemstone enhancements. The founders of the PanTerra D'Oro Society have extensive history within the gemstone business and always intended to return to the business as an integral part of our global initiatives combining resource development with humanitarian intentions. Pursuant thereto, our joint venture agreement with Arthur Groom and companies is a perfect match, to combine his and our expertise in the global gemstone world in synergy with our intentions to work closely with communities that have all too often in the past been exploited and abused while their birth right resources have been extracted without any true compensation going back to the people and the land itself. We have combined our complimentary resources, expertise and ideals to establish with our joint venture agreement with Arthur such an endeavor in the global gemstone market. For initial information concerning this, the following web sites can be visited, and more detail will emerge soon in this endeavor by and through the GEMSTONE Media Alliance and one of our intended channels "The Gemstone Chronicles"!

Arthur Groom is one of the world's leading experts in the field of gemstone technologies, ranging from

Sample Project Partners and Associated Groups

The following segments provide a brief overview of some of our associated partners in the area of projects and technologies. We have significantly more such groups, alliances and projects that will be brought forward once the administrative, technical and financial infrastructure are in place to enable us to manage a steady and increasing flow of project submissions, processing and funding. The key to understand with these projects is they are synergistically integrated with the entire plan whereby the education supports the maturing of projects and their principals, which in turn support and enhance the Living University concept of real-time interaction and development, which in turn are disseminated by the virtual university and media functions to open up more awareness to the global community of the emerging new paradigm that all of this bodes for the future, and all of it is underwritten and supported by the banking, financial, communications and data systems as a complete and integrated whole system.

➤ KAIROS INTERNATIONAL ENERGY ASSOCIATION

This group is working on numerous designs for energy generating systems that will be deployed within the distributed PCA model discussed above. It is led by one of our strategic alliance partners and member of PTDO and the OMS team who has been involved with alternative energy and related technologies for much of his career. The Kairos Group has networked with many inventors and engineers of such technologies to create a consortium alliance intended for mutual support to pursue research, development, manufacturing and distribution of technologies. It is intended to work with some of the in-house projects of Kairos to integrate the concepts of fusing debt-free digital currencies with free energy systems. In particular, Kairos is near to completion of the development of a working generator that generates over-unity electrical output. This generator can function at a large industrial level or be scaled for home energy production.

➤ SEARL TECHNOLOGY GROUP SOCIETY

The Searl Society is based on the life work of John Searl, who in the 1950s developed and perfected a generator using principles of magnetic waveform technology that draws electrons out of the ambient surrounding air and directs them into a coherent stream that produces electricity. He ran his personal home on it for years as well as designed and flew a flying disc based on the fact that the generator produced an inverse-gravity field. The generator also demonstrated super conductivity and other phenomenon. By the 1970s the British system effectively shut him down and over the next few decades he was unable to revitalize the technology. Fortunately, he was pulled out of that state by a man who had tracked his work for years and brought John to San Diego where they founded the Searl Group. A year and a half ago they were introduced to PanTerra and subsequently became members and agreed to structure their project and build a private society for distribution of the Searl Effect Generator (“SEG”) and use the above described distributed model. The SEG is now in research and development stages awaiting the necessary capital to bring it to an engineered prototype ready for production, which they expect can happen within eighteen to twenty-four months after capitalization.

This group is based in Houston, Texas and has been working for two decades to bring forward a large compendium of projects. These range from combined energy with water systems (atmospheric extraction of water), medical and health projects for under-served nations and communities and many more. A sampling of these are:

A. GMED/Global Medical Partners, LLC

GMED’s Mission is to provide healthcare services to rural, under-served and non-served communities throughout the world using modular, transportable, self-contained, medical clinics in modified shipping containers. This will include on-going supplies/medications/disposables, on-site medical staff, on-site management, multiple visiting medical teams, remote management oversight via eHealth (teleradiology and telecommunications via satellite or Internet), and educational programs to train local people to be employed at the centers, all through a network of suppliers. GMED is a for-profit business legally designated as an LLC.

B. Comprehensive Therapy and Educational Centers for Special Needs Children

This project focuses on creating integrated centers for special needs patients, both children and adults, with challenges such as autism, ADD and ADHD. Its plan and purpose is to minister to the physical, emotional and spiritual well-being of special needs children and adults, as well as their families. This project will establish centers throughout the United States and the world, designed to serve any family who is caring for a special needs individual. Special needs includes, but is not limited to Autism, Cancer, Sickle Cell Anemia, Aids, Cerebral Palsy, Down-syndrome, Multiple Sclerosis, Stroke and other neurological disorders and brain damage, as well as the untold millions of children and young adults suffering from the effects of psychotropic drugs used for the treatment of ADD and ADHD. This project intends to address the number one issue facing the nation, which is the destruction of the children and future generations, especially the plague of autism that now affects one in every seventy-five children and perhaps even more.

C. Eagles International Esther Homes for Women

The need for rehabilitation facilities for women who have been caught in the web of sex trafficking worldwide has reached critical proportions. International agencies including the FBI, Interpol and relief agencies in nearly every country are contacting the offices of this project seeking counseling facilities to rehabilitate women kidnapped and sold into the sex trafficking business. The United States has become one of the most dangerous countries in the world for young women. This project offers health services for these women to restore them to society and their families. The next level of implementation for this active project is the acquisition and fitting out of a full time home rehabilitation ranch facility in Texas including living quarters, a therapy and training clinic and job placement opportunities. The larger context of the project is to use that first full facility as a prototype to establish similar facilities throughout the United States and worldwide, and to develop prototypes and models to address this critical issue.

D. California Drought Project

The intention of this project is to create a series of six manufacturing facilities, each capable of producing a minimum of Ten Million Gallons and up to a maximum of Twenty Million Gallons of potable water per 24-Hour Cycle. The ability to increase the range of water productivity per facility is dependent upon increasing the specific number of A.C.S. Modules mounted on the O.P.S. These patented modules are the heart and soul of this project's technology; each essentially operates as a mini-weather station.

These modules and the structures (O.P.S.) upon which they are mounted literally dictate the ability to produce potable water in amounts required to make a difference in the day-to-day lives of most people and the environment. Production of vast amounts of water can also serve to allow brief interruptions or temporary reprieve in utilization of water allowing for temporarily refreshing various aquifers. In California, there are over 500 individual aquifers. These aquifers must be given a break if we are to allow for refreshment; if only on a limited basis. This technology will allow this brief interruption of demand. Additionally, the A.C.S. has NO carbon footprint from the technology or causes any environmental impacts such as occurs with salt desalinization units.

The California Drought project will produce 60 to 120 million gallons of pure water daily without use of a desalination process, while providing nearly ten percent of the water demands of major cities at a cost of one half of the expenditure for San Diego alone. Once implemented and perfected, these will demonstrate the capacity to fulfill water requirements in any environment. The source of electricity to power the plants is from solar or other renewal energy resources, thus eliminating any carbon footprint from the water production or reliance on non-renewable sources.

March 2017 Update Note: Obviously with the torrential rains recently unleashed on California, that particular drought is over (and we say unleashed as if it was by purposeful intent, because of course it was, as was the creation of the drought itself, but that too is another story for another time). The point being that this model is applicable to anywhere in the world where drought conditions prevail, of which there are many.

➤ AFRICAN DREAM PROJECT (EGYPT, AFRICAN CONTINENT)

The African Dream project is based in Egypt and encompasses the entire African Continent. Its intent is to unify Africa into a self-sufficient and prosperous group of nations. The principles of the project have worked extensively with many African nations over the last twenty years and helped in debt restructuring, resource management and other essential requirements to build prosperous and self-sufficient nations. Now they are envisioning and mobilizing the African Dream to do so on a continental scale. The goal and intent is to create a fully self-sufficient, prosperous and thriving Africa, derived from African resources and under African control.

➤ JEWEL OF AFRICA PROJECT (NIGERIA, AFRICAN CONTINENT)

This project is the culmination of several decades of dedicated efforts by Ambassador at Large for Africa Rameline Kanga, whose efforts have spanned the entire continent of Africa to bring together a team of partners, associates, public officials and other committed parties to create a model community development project that will be reproduced throughout Africa. The country of Nigeria has granted the project 10,000 hectares in the northern part of the country for the first of such developments. Mrs. Kanga has brought together a significant team and compendium of expertise and is awaiting the necessary funding to begin the project. For a fuller description of the project, please visit:

❖ http://www.crciafrica.com/executive\_jewel.php

The above projects are presented here as examples of current associate groups and members of the PanTerra D'Oro Society. Over the many years of development we have accrued many hundreds of projects, innovators, inventors and so forth that will be reactivated to bring forward if they wish to engage with and through PTDO for advancing their projects within this model.

Initial Project Point of Focus

Initial Project Point of Focus

The founding principals of PanTerra D'Oro have been visiting Costa Rica since 1998 and have developed extensive relationships with the country and people. There are many aspects of Costa Rica that make it ideal as the location for our first physical location to develop the Living University of the GEMSTONE University and Global Media Alliance project. Among these are its beautiful land, diverse flora and fauna, temperate climate and other aspects of the physical environment. It has no standing army and has directed what most countries spend on military spending into education, preservation of the land and environment and other ways to preserve and enhance the country. Due to its high attention to education, the Costa Rican people have the highest rate of literacy in all of the Americas (around 97%). There are many college and university graduates that are fully bi-lingual (English and Spanish), which provides a great pool of educated people for the many jobs and tasks that will need to be fulfilled in the project. The close proximity of Costa Rica to the financial and banking center of Panama City also makes it convenient, and of course the natural beauty and fertility of the land is ideal for the land based projects intended to be developed.

First “Living University”

As previously discussed, the living university model will be a comprehensive and integrated venue to bring together all the elements of our intended plan, to build prototypes, templates and models for other communities, to incubate and develop technologies, designs, media content, educational excellence and intellectual inquiry to achieve the goals as herein described. The Living University will be a synthesis of everything discussed in this presentation as well as a node or hub for the media content development and distribution. Each location will be a regional hub that will be linked via the communications and broadcasting system envisioned for the GEMSTONE Global Media Alliance and Broadcasting Network. It will be a permanent community developed on the land to integrate the elements of communication, education, healthy living models and much more. Each location will feature a state-of-the-art healing and rejuvenation center that will be for the inhabitants on the land, the local peoples and communities, and for visitors who come for the education and the immersion in the new paradigm model that each location will embody. There will be a permanent population living and working on the site as well as housing facilities for visiting members to participate in the various activities, building, management and ongoing content development and presentation.

From the many years of experience in traveling and visiting Costa Rica, the connections for required land and building acquisitions, as well as political, legal and infrastructure requirements have been previously established. We have identified numerous potential acquisitions that will be activated upon confirmation of funding. This will include a large undeveloped land parcel in a rural location in the northern part of the country as well as commercial buildings and housing in the municipal area of the capital city San Jose. These and other possible acquisitions are briefly described in the following section.

Identified Acquisitions

A specific large parcel of land in the province of Guanacaste, within a one-hour drive from the international airport in the largest city in the area, Liberia, has been under consideration for the last six years. It has been owned by a private family for many generations and is known to be available for purchase although it is not actively listed. We have been in touch with the realtors handling the property for many years now, and recently confirmed that it is still available. It is one hundred and fifty hectares (375 acres) with varied terrain, rolling meadows, a low elevation mountain top, rivers and streams, cold water artesian sources and two natural hot springs. It is ideal for the intended uses and integrated design of the project.

The land-based development for agriculture and forestry projects will be ideally fulfilled with this location. The range of elevations from 2000-3500 feet above sea level will work very well for the intended permaculture design of the project. Another intended project is for the development of a model reforestation project, featuring the Paulownia tree. This tree is native to Hunan Province in Southern China. It has forty-six subspecies of which two demonstrated natural properties of rapid growth. The two with rapid growth have been worked with over the past twenty years by various groups around the world to cross the original tree with others that had desirable traits.

The result is a tree that is the fastest growing hard wood tree in the world, producing harvestable trunks up to fifty feet tall within 5-7 years. It has other properties such as the ability to regenerate from the stump after harvest, the leaves are high oxygen producers, the roots remove toxicity out of soil and a plantation can be inter-cropped with food producing plants. These trees can also be applied as a very useful method for reforestation by first planting the Paulownia trees and then inter-cropping with indigenous species that have been clear-cut in the past. Many such indigenous trees will not regenerate on their own, as they need the ground humus and cover canopy to be nurtured and protected during early stages of growth. The Paulownia provides that and can be harvested in the early years, then removed once the intended native growth has taken hold and can sustain on its own.

The wood of the Paulownia is as light as balsa yet as strong as mahogany. Thus it can be used for pulp, timber, construction, furniture, molding and other wood products. Each acre of planting creates three jobs, plus additional jobs are created for value added manufacturing, using the wood as the raw resource. It can also be used as a stock source for making biofuels (see <http://www.emeraldplantations.com>). Numerous studies have been done to map out a complete community development project that integrates the planting, tending and harvesting of Paulownia to support a thriving rural based community.

Another key area of materials and alternatives for construction that will be fully explored will be the many uses of bamboo. Costa Rica has been the home of many innovations in architecture, housing and agricultural uses of bamboo, so there are already established professionals and organizations in the country that can be brought together to provide content and education for this area of focus. Additionally, we intend to make contact with the Ibuku Project in Bali, Indonesia to see if a collaborative effort could be initiated between them and our Costa Rican project (<http://ibuku.com/> and http://www.ted.com/talks/elora\_hardy\_magical\_houses\_made\_of\_bamboo).

← THIS IS ONE OF THE HOT SPRINGS ON THE LAND

These and other intended focus projects will be instituted in this first land development and university setting. The hot springs will provide multiple functions such as relaxation, health center applications and support for agriculture (green houses, mineralization) as well as an energy source. All of this will be part of the life systems departments of the university. Experts in various applied and related fields will be invited to participate in the incubation, development and teaching in these areas. Of course, the content of the education will be captured via the media and communications side of the university for archiving, dissemination and broadcasting. We will bring in advanced experts in many fields for the design and build-out of this project to be a state-of-the-art model location to see how a sustainable design system can be integrated for all aspects (housing, common facilities, classrooms, communications facilities, agriculture, energy, recycling etc.),

The communications and media nexus will be centered around a large complex that integrates all of the technological, media, audio and video recording, studios and class room settings. All of this will be designed from the ground up to incorporate all of the elements that will be featured in the educational curriculum, such as materials, design, energy efficiency and so forth. As to design, the overall schematic of the entire project will be in itself a part of the incubation, modeling and expression of the kind of innovation and synergy concepts that are part of the intentions of the university and educational modalities of the project. The classrooms and other settings for the on site education, as well as an auditorium for larger presentations and events, will be hardwired for recording and broadcasting so as to integrate all functions, both live and archived. Ultimately, the intent is to design and create a model that can be reproduced in other locations and be a center for gathering, teaching and collaboration for other communities, groups and organizations to take away and apply in their own projects and communities.

Blue River Resort

This established and existing hot springs, resort and community is currently for sale, for either outright purchase or a joint venture capital contribution partner. It is also in the northern province of Guanacaste and features natural hot springs, a hotel, and housing development. This site is a possible choice for acquisition to be used for housing, retreats, interim educational location and other purposes, while the larger parcel described above is under development and construction. For details, see <http://www.blueriverresort.com/>.

Commercial Building in San Jose Area (TBD)

In the initial phase of the project both housing and commercial facilities will be acquired either through purchase or lease in the greater San Jose area. Because Costa Rica has been the home to many major corporations over the last thirty years, there is an abundance of first class commercial buildings and locations in the area, as well as quality homes. The commercial location will be chosen for its ability to optimize the following requirements:

- A. Administration
- B. Business Center
- C. Telecom and Data Center Nexus
- D. Diplomatic Liaison Nexus
- E. Media, Content Development, Editing and Broadcasting Center
- F. General Business Management
- G. Team Development and Strategic Planning

Additional Locations under Consideration

➤ NORTH AMERICA

Some of the current PTDO and GU members are currently establishing and building their own societies based on the PTDO model. As resources come available these societies will be acquiring land holdings in; North America upon which communities will be built to develop the mission purposes of the societies. Among these intentions are creating birthing centers for families to bring children into this world free from the fetters of the public system, growing facilities for cannabis and other medicinal herbs, healing and rejuvenation centers similar and complimentary to the intentions in Costa Rica and other projects in alignment with this Master Plan.

➤ THAILAND, PHILIPPINES, INDONESIA

Other PTDO and GU members have focus or live in these Asian countries for project and investment development, as well as current or future planned land development projects. This includes the intent of the Spartan Forex Group to open offices in Thailand and Indonesia.

➤ VANUATU -- IOCS PROJECT

The Internal Organization of Community Sharing (www.iocs.info) is part of the larger consortium that includes the Vanuatu Bank and related services originating out of Vanuatu. This project is the largest holder of land in Vanuatu, controlling by long-term lease hold approximately 200,000 hectares of land that starts at the shoreline and extends up to higher elevations of the volcanic mountain that makes up the island of Espiritu Santo. They have long range development plans for a marina, airport, commercial zone, residential and agricultural development. The founders of PTDO have been members of IOCS and friends with the founders for about seven years and have discussed many ways of collaboration and synergy with complimentary and parallel projects and intentions.

➤ AFRICA, CARIBBEAN AND LATIN AMERICA

Overall, PTDO has members in over twenty countries and that number is growing. Many of these members have their own projects and intentions, so eventually each project as it is birthed and matured will become a regional point of presence for a PanTerra D'Oro and GEMSTONE University and GMA land-based location. There are currently more than fifteen countries that have members and pending or intended projects in Africa, the Caribbean and Latin America, including: The Bahamas, Mexico, Nicaragua, Panama, Belize, Ecuador, Brazil, Argentina, Uruguay, Sierra Leone, Brazzaville, Congo, Nigeria, Rwanda, Guidea, South Africa and Egypt.

...And this is the other hot springs on the Land!

Team Development

Team Development

The organization, management and administrative design of PTDO, GU and GGMA is one based on team structure rather than hierarchical. The term that best would describe this approach is “chaordic”, a style of organization that combines chaos with order. This can essentially be seen as combining the best aspects of the left-brain focus of linear thinking and analysis with the right-brain creative and holistic approach. This concept and principle was developed by Dee Hock who was the creator of VISA, an organization based on and operating in a chaordic style. The reader can find his book about this process and how such systems work and are effective in enhancing and stimulating creativity while maintaining the necessary administrative requirements to have the organization run smoothly and efficiently. His book can be found here: <http://www.amazon.com/Birth-Chaordic-Age-Dee-Hock/dp/1576750744/>, and is introduced with:

“In ‘Birth of the Chaordic Age’, Dee Hock argues that traditional organizational forms can no longer work because organizations have become too complex. Hock advocates a new organizational form that he calls ‘chaordic’ or simultaneously chaotic and orderly. He credits the worldwide success of VISA with its chaordic structure -- it is owned by its member banks which both compete with each other for customers and must cooperate by honoring one another’s transactions across borders and currencies. The book shows how these same chaordic concepts are now being put into practice in a broad range of business, social, community, and government organizations.”

This approach will be applied to our team creation for the various purposes and functions of each self contained module of focus. Another integrative approach that will be utilized, which can be seen as an adjunct or compliment to the chaordic style is that of “whole system dynamics” in which every module or area of function or focus is designed as a whole system, while each whole system is interdependent and interactive with every other whole system module. The elements of this type of approach require that each module is: 1) Self-Responsible; 2) Self-Directive; 3) Self-Generating; and 4) Self-Correcting. This also facilitates the intent of the chaordic system which is to maintain linear management with holographic creativity.

The concepts presented in this document such as the Networked System of Private Societies and the Global Media Alliance will be developed, designed and implemented on the same principles and templates, and within each, Team Development will emerge to focus specificity in the creation and management of the various component parts.

In the beginning stages of implementation of this plan, the current membership of PTDO will be the base from which specific tasks, job functions and team development shall be derived. Our membership as of the time of this writing is in the range of approximately four hundred, of which approximately 100 are currently involved with the Status Correction (“SC”) course, another one hundred are involved with the Estate Structure (“ES”) course (with some members participating in both, these are the total numbers in each course), and probably another 50-100 in the general educational membership (“GEM”) level. Of course, new members will come on in a steady stream once we are fully mobilized with outreach and expanded membership development as this plan begins to manifest and be put into form.

The remuneration of member/participants will be an integration of current fiat currencies with crypto and digital currencies, with encouragement to utilize the digital currencies as much as possible in creating and expanding the internal private system of exchange. In the ICCSS program using www.employeesgold.info “Employee Gold”, “employees” (of which there will be none, only member/participants) are provided a combination of the two forms of remuneration and the ICCSS system is one that self-generates expansion of the monetary base the more it is used, thus the members are interactively prospering and building their own value creation and wealth within the system.

An honest money and “real bill” system of exchange and monetary creation literally turns the entire paradigm into which we have been indoctrinated completely around. Instead of having all monetary issue be derived from a centralized system that starts with the bonding aspect of monetized debt, monetary value is created and grown concurrent with and commensurate with the input of value into the system. This is ideally suited and nurtured in our model. Thus, members take on tasks, enter into positions or create their own position, take up jobs or head up teams or their own projects/societies, all of which is a value creation process. Their value then is correspondingly monetized by a value input created by a digital currency system such as ZCASH, CHIPS and SPURT whereby their value/energy/creativity becomes the source and issue of the monetary unit. This is done by the creation of a bill that enters the system and is then recorded as a new unit of value (Life Unit, Energy Unit, Work Unit, etc.). It does not have to emerge into existence as bonded debt or by taxation or other old paradigm mechanisms, and it is not diminished over time by taxation, inflation or interest. We are the source, we are the fountain of creation and we are the bank! It is as simple as that.

This, in turn, facilitates and enhances the concept and function of a private society. PanTerra D’Oro is posited on the maxim of being a Mutual Benefit Society, which sees every member as a whole system (living dynamic) unto themselves, but interactively part of the larger whole, and their work and creative energy is driving the creation of the system and the monetary form within it. This can only happen in the nature and structure of a private society, due to the inherent impairments and “feeding tubes” inserted into the living being and life force by our current corporate model based on suppression of creativity and innovation, hierarchy and top down dominance, along with a delimiting monetary structure.

Some of the teams that will be organized and fulfilled will include:

ADMINISTRATION

1. Law form and strategies
2. Accounting and financial management
3. Logistics and organization

BANKING AND FINANCIAL

1. Bank Acquisition and New Chartering
2. Asset Management Services
3. Lease and Financial Services
4. Digital and Crypto Currencies
5. Bullion and Hard Asset Repositories, Acquisition and Security

These lists and categories are by no means definitive and complete in this brief summary, but are provided here to demonstrate a basic schematic on how the team structure and organizational management will be designed and implemented.

GEMSTONE University

The all-encompassing context of this plan is education and media, built on the foundational components as discussed thus far. The education and media component is inclusive of all other elements of the intentions described in this presentation. The two complimentary building blocks of this essential component are the physical locations of the “Living Universities” and the virtual broadcast and delivery capacities of the global system built upon the communications and data platform.

To encapsulate this entire structure, we refer to the principles of the education and media with the following key words:

- ❖ Synthetic
- ❖ Synergistic
- ❖ Integrative
- ❖ Apocalyptic

In order to understand these, each must be briefly defined:

By synthetic we do not mean that which most would think of with that word as being artificial, in fact, we use it here as quite the opposite. This descriptor references the fact that true understanding and the applied capacities to be derived therefrom is based on the capacity of synthesis understanding of our world, not abstraction, apportionment, separation or specialization. Each of these may serve as a sub-set of an overall synthesis understanding of our world, but by themselves, they serve to separate and alienate us from the real world and all of the living components of life. Thus, our educational model is to be one that synthesizes a world-view based on true and comprehensive awareness, as well as the ability to engender critical thinking, broad-spectrum analysis and comprehensive understanding. It is obvious by our world condition at the present time that such a synthesis awareness in education and media is sorely lacking, and thus, it is our guiding principle to develop a model and system that addresses this point.

Our second principle is an extension of the first, in that synergy is the integration of the component parts that are accessed and developed by and through a synthesis model of education. A synergistic approach equates to developing methodologies that build true capacities to combine components of a world-view that incorporates elements that when left to themselves often create conflicting agendas and applications. One must be able to synergize a full spectrum understanding of requirements, challenges and contributory pieces to arrive at a working application that truly addresses the problems and achieves solutions that work for all component parts.

Of course, the integrative principle continues this approach, in that we must engender a basis of knowledge and understanding that builds a foundation of synthesis and synergy to achieve an integrated whole system understanding. The world has been operated for thousands of years based on compartmentalization, separation, divide-and-conquer techniques, polarity and manipulation by educational and media methodologies that fragment the perceptions of most of humanity. Thus, we must return to a whole brain system of education that incorporates these three principles of synthesis, synergy and integration. We must teach ourselves, each other and our children how synthesis of pieces brings forth a synergy of function and complimentary results (where the whole is greater than the sum of the parts), in order to integrate all elements into a model that works for all considerations. Thus, of course, all three of these elements as part of this whole approach are synthetic, synergistic and integrative as a whole.

Now, when we apply the word apocalyptic we understand that the first thought in many will be religious or biblical in nature, but that is not at all what is meant here with its inclusion in these points. The literal definition of the word simply means “to split apart and reveal”. The world around us is now in an apocalypse; all things long hidden are being split open and revealed. Revelation provides the choice of reinforcing pre-existing programmed and mind controlled realities (as they are designed to be perceived) or it means breaking down of the old order and opening ourselves up to the new. In order to truly rebuild our world into a new model of one that works best for all we have to break down the old artificial construct of reality that has brought us to this moment. Rearranging the pieces while keeping the same belief systems, prejudices and archaic models is tantamount to rearranging the furniture on the deck of the Titanic while the band plays on. It might give us a moment of pleasure and self-congratulatory ego boost, but the ship is going down nonetheless and we have accomplished nothing.

Virtually the entire world model we have today is built on policies of abstraction, alienation, separation, and isolation. It has been a very successful model to achieve the “work of the ages” which is the esoteric reference to achieving a one world system to the benefit of the few and extreme detriment of the many. Concurrent with that intent was to build a mind-controlled zombie population more interested in twitter tweets than substantive understanding. At the root of this issue is the education and media used to dumb the population down. The entire current education and media system are the primary tools for the inculcation and continuation of this model. Chief amongst the tools applied therein is suppression of synthesis, synergistic and integrative systems of thought and solution development. This includes a vast network of means and methods to suppress the truth of our world, our history, our condition and much more. Therefore, to split apart the encrusted enclosure of that suppression and reveal the hidden truths, within a context of integrative whole system understanding and the engendering of creative solutions based on synthesis and synergy of all considerations and component parts, is the guiding principle of our educational and media delivery philosophy and model.

As such, the curriculum and content will be ever expanding. The following are simply a starting point of the type of departments and subject foci, with only brief summaries of each one. Upon activation of the necessary financial resources to begin the building process of the plan, an entire team (really groups of teams) will be put in place for the full development of the departments, subjects, curricula, and content development requirements. The following are samples of the key departments that will be developed:

Law and Money

➤ STATUS CORRECTION

This subject has been a primary focus of research and development of the existing GEMSTONE University over the last three years, and is based on many decades of serious research and investigation by many participants, both in-house and associated. In short, this topic is based on the revelation that our true status in this world is that of being the bonded surety to a system of perpetual (and intended to be everlasting) debt, set up to support and perpetuate a world model designed to be extractive and consumptive to the detriment of human societies and world ecology, for the benefit of the few (the rulers, the elite, the hidden hand).

Conversely, in law there is always a built-in remedy, and that remedy in this regard is the ability to correct this status and remove oneself from the voluntary consent that is implied by our actions every day and since the moment of our birth. The status correction course and process is therefore central to our law and money department. Intrinsic in the structure of bonded servitude and debt surety is the method by which “money” has been created for the last several hundred years and longer. Therefore, law and money are combined as a single department because they are inextricably entwined and in fact are essentially one and the same subject. The ability to correct our status is inherent in the foundational requirement to build a new world model with respect to law, money and the extension subjects there from, thus this subject is foundational to our work and focus.

➤ SOCIETY AND ASSOCIATION DEVELOPMENT

This subject relates to the other advanced focus of our development in the last three years. It too is central in that just as the legal and monetary system has been designed to bond the human race to the controlled servitude of the current world system, the corollary to that element is the design and structure of the corporation. As such, the entire world model today is one of a pyramidal hierarchy of one corporation, situated in one of the three sovereign city-states of the world system, the Crown Corporation in the City of London. All other corporations in the world are subdivisions of that one singular monolith. But, parallel to that there has been the utility of something known as a private society with the adjunct of a private contract association. The ruling elite have used this model for their own devices for centuries.

Therefore, teaching future leaders to understand that they can bring forward and manifest their visions, projects, technologies and communities in a society-association oriented model that is neither a corporation or a franchise thereof is part of our essential curriculum in teaching the foundational subject of law and money. This will create the framework for what can be seen as the “receptacle” for the transfer of the world’s wealth into a structure and form that is self-contained and cohesive without the detrimental and built-in elements of the old world model.

➤ NEW MONETARY AND ECONOMIC SYSTEMS

This department would build an educational base for understanding the history of economic and monetary functions through the lens of truth and clarity with respect to the underpinning agendas that have guided such pursuits for centuries. That agenda of course is the fulfillment of creating a world system controlled by the financial elite through the current banking and monetary structure. The intention of this department for new monetary and economic systems is to understand the past in order to re-purpose those elements that are viable for building the new models of the future.

➤ WHOLE SYSTEM LAW

What is Whole System Law? It is one in which the truth of how law has been structured is fully revealed and in such revelation it is shown how the old paradigm legal system has been utilized for creating the system of debt bondage in the world by clandestine methods and insidious means. At the same time, there is a deeper understanding of law that is revealed, one in which remedy and resolution is possible, as discussed above in the section pertaining to status correction. Most people have no clue how law really works. This department will open that obtuse and convoluted subject to be able to view it from a whole system perspective, one in which the problems are clearly identified and understood, and whereby the solutions can be derived from such knowledge and understanding.

This is counterposed to what is taught in law schools today. Such schools produce graduates who are indoctrinated in a civil legal system that is in fact a front for a military occupation via Roman civil law and concurrent equity. In short, this means they are legal mechanics who are servants of the courts, not the people, and those courts are really military tribunals operating as private commercial enterprises for profit. When they produce an attorney, his or her job is to “attorn” the client, meaning to literally “turn them in” so that they are the captured booty and prize on a ship on the sea of commerce, being boarded by an enemy captain (esquires are captains of ships) under Letters of Marque and Reprisal. This is a legal education devoid of the principles we are highlighting here, and therefore the opposite of our intent to develop a course in learning Whole System Law.

➤ RESEARCH, ARCHIVING AND UNIVERSAL ACCESSIBILITY

One of the key issues in the arena of law and money is the fact of suppression, denial, obfuscation and other techniques for creating ignorance and illusion. One important aspect of this is what we might call the “Library of Alexandria” syndrome. What is that? Simply, the utility of mob mentality to create a reactive, lynch mob mobilization towards the goal of burning books and records. There is so much disinformation, denial and abject ignorance in this all-important field, and much of that is based on the inaccessibility of books, records, original documents and source materials. Therefore, one key element of our Law and Money department will be that of building comprehensive systems for sourcing original documents and records, along with research, organization, archiving and accessible methods for students, researchers, authors and the like to support the emergence of truth and clarity.

True History

The issue of history is identical to that of law and money. The methods and the techniques are identical. The results are the same. Obfuscation, misinformation, half-truths, revisionism and every thing else to obscure the truth of our world. The inculcation of myths and fantasies, based in large part on the misanthropic cultivation of hero worship, patriotism, religious fervor, tribalism, chosen people syndrome and other techniques has defined “his story” for millennia (his story, because it is also foundationally built upon the misaligned and misogynistic male dominant model of violence and destruction of life through war and other means). So, rather than repeat the same things stated above for law and money, suffice to say it is the same theme and the same requirement.

In short, history is the story of the development of a system called law, upon which a system called money was created, in order to bond and enslave the human race, to put them to toil in order to extract the resources of the planet to build a prison for that same human race, organized and managed in a hierarchical structure infused with competition, self-interest, jealousy and hatred, underwritten by a primary basis that we call the “enemy construct” (which is something we all have accepted, allowed and perpetrated within ourselves, that of seeing our own internal separation projected outside of ourselves onto an apparent “enemy”) by which divide and conquer methodologies have always worked to direct the herd and control the masses because we so readily adopt the external enemy polarity. From all appearances and objective analysis of our world, the methods have worked quite flawlessly up until this time.

Our True History department will be designed as part of the apocalyptic approach to crack open the encasing edifice and reveal the truth of the matter, in every sub-division of this vast subject we call history. Examples of the areas in which such will include:

1. Ancient Archeology
2. Astrotheology and Origins of Religion
3. Esoteric and Secret Societies
4. Myths and Legends as Codified Real History
5. Hidden Science
6. History of Legal and Monetary Systems
7. History of the Matrix, Origins and Evolution of the One World Order Agenda
  - a. The “Sweep of History” towards a pre-determined end game that we see now manifest worldwide
  - b. Learning to decode the facts and figures of history by means of understanding the implicate design of the sweep of history
8. Genetic Manipulations and Design/Origins of the Human Race

Life Sciences and Systems

This department will cover the full spectrum of life systems, from the human body to ecological systems to environment sciences to re-purposing of natural resources into a sustainable, renewable and balanced system. This is not a “sustainable” future as stated by the United Nations Agenda 21 model, in which the same old agenda is redeployed with new gloss and platitudes but still directed towards the same end game goal. This is a decentralized and self-directive model in which people and communities are assisted to learn the tools of how to create their own versions of life support, revitalization and rejuvenation. Some of the categories of this department will include:

1. Land Use
2. Permaculture
3. Living Food Forests

4. Urban Food Systems
5. Optimal Biology
6. Reforestation
7. Seed Banks and Food Regeneration

Ecology and Environment

This department is an adjunct of the Life Sciences field, with specific focus on supporting any and all efforts world wide in bringing forward the truly massive task of cleaning up our world. This will be integrated with the paramount importance of looking to the needs of the animal and plant kingdoms, which have been seriously compromised by the human race. Teaching how to redirect economic activities so that they work together with the needs of the natural world as our partner, not our adversary or our exclusive domain. This includes ecological systems such as the oceans, rivers, forests, wet lands and everywhere else that the natural order has been perverted to serve the short-sighted self interest of the human race (which pretty much means everywhere on the planet). This will include areas of focus such as:

1. Remediation of land, air and water
2. Detoxification of the environment
3. Revitalizing seed stock and re-diversification
4. Refer to Universal Resource Institute below

Housing and Energy

This department will focus on the practical requirements for achieving the essentials of life for all people in the world. New and innovative systems for housing, materials, balanced land use, energy, food and water will be incubated with new technologies and other essential knowledge to provide people and communities the tools to redesign their life support systems. The key of course is that this must be integrated with all of the other key arenas of practical life functions as described in other department summaries, within the context of our philosophy and approach of synthesis, synergy and integration.

Project and Technology Incubation and Manifestation

One of the key components of the university, education and media model is to provide individuals and groups the practical tools of how to build and deploy a new project or technology. The comprehensive approach presented here with the primary tools of understanding law, structuring, design, legal and financial management and other components is often the difference between success and failure. Many brilliant ideas have died on the drawing table due to the lack of understanding of everything that is required to bring an idea to fruition. Therefore, this department will focus on idea, project and technology incubation, from seed idea to full manifestation, and how to acquire and apply the necessary practical tools to make one's idea a manifested reality.

Some of our partners and associated groups that are already well advanced in their own implementation will be integrated with this area of focus, and many more will be brought along as our plan matures. Refer to the section above Sample Project Partners and Associated Groups

Health, Well Being and Rejuvenation

This department shall be one of our foundational components of the curriculum. Many people are concerned about the issue of freedom by and through the primary focuses of law and money, and yet they ignore the most essential component of freedom which is the integrity and vitality in their own bodies. At the same time, there are many in the freedom movement who are aware of these issues but have suffered due to the overwhelming stress of our current system, imploding financial condition and the onslaught of legal pressure from many directions (foreclosure, taxation, code enforcement and literally tens of millions of codes and statutes that inundate all of us in innumerable ways). Thus, the educational and media model of PTDO, GU and GGMA shall be "hardwired" as it were, with this most fundamental of human rights.

Every Living University will be a center for health education and a place for retreat, relaxation, rejuvenation, cleansing, detoxing, and revitalization of the human body and the living being within. Tools for such will be part of each location and will be integrated in a global template through the archival, live, broadcasting and media network delivery system. Every active member/participant, as a co-creator of this plan and intention, will have access to the best of these health and well-being programs, and all will be able to travel and stay for whatever extended period is necessary if and when they need an opportunity to catch up with themselves, to heal from diseases and renew their lives and their beings with a body that is vital and alive. Our purpose is about Life, and thus, renewing and rejuvenating ourselves within and as the life that we are is essential. It will in turn reap many rewards, for the individual, the family, the community and the society. When health is restored or enhanced, then the joie d'vivre that all should have and hold returns, and enthusiasm to create and extend what we have created becomes a natural expression, out of which the ultimate intent of this plan shall emerge. That ultimate intention is to support empowered individuals and organizations to bring forward their utmost potential and manifested expressions in life, as a gift to the world, in healing this world from the travails and trials by which it is now so burdened.

Our purpose and intent is not to consume and deplete life, but to support and enhance it. Thus, we see as essential and paramount the requirement that all who are part of this venture are supported to do so in an optimum level of health and vitality. That is why this department will be front and central in all that we do. We will also become a safe haven for many who have been persecuted by the Faster Death Agency (“FDA”) in its various forms and guises throughout the world, which is designed to promote a cult of death and dying rather than life and living. Many people with incredible gifts in the fields of health, well-being and rejuvenation are harassed and hounded out of business because of the iron fisted control of the system. Unfortunately, most do not have the knowledge or resources to defend and protect their expertise and professions. This comes down to that all encompassing component of law and status. Thus, the parallel relationship between achieving lawful standing and status right beside living vitality is so important. Anyone who chooses to do the required work, study and effort can achieve full freedom in this world, including those practitioners of healing arts that have been so suppressed in so many different ways. Therefore, this department of the Living University system will provide them the insight, understanding and keys to achieve that freedom, and equally so for them to then assist others in attaining the freedom of body and being that emerges as the reward for such efforts and diligence.

Each location as a Living University will have the elements of health and rejuvenation for on-site immersion for that purpose alone, or side by side with other educational pursuits. There will also be an archive of materials, classes, and resources within the virtual university system for any and all members to access and utilize worldwide in the key field of “Owner’s Manual for the Human Body”.

GEMSTONE Broadcast Network Channels

An integral component of the GEMSTONE system, with the Living Universities, online, virtual education, and the Global Media Alliance will be the Broadcast Network system. This will utilize whatever the best of breed technology is to deliver a Virtual Private Network (“VPN”) multi-channel system to the end user, who can utilize any device (hand held, phone, pad, desktop, laptop, television, auditorium big screen) to access the channels and programming. Available technology will be deployed in the initial phase of building and development, while in-house systems as discussed above in the Communications and Data section will be developed and, when ready, merged into the full global deployment.

This will be structured on the Private Society/PCA model as discussed above. In this way, the entire educational and media content (university, media channels, alliance) is a “For Members Only” structure to maintain the integrity of the entire integrated model and secure it against intrusion, manipulation and any other form of undermining or confrontational attempts via the usual techniques of using the public/corporate legalized control system. Some of the types of channels will include:

- A. The Truth of the Matter (Real Law, Money and History)

- B. Money, New Systems and New Economics
- C. Current Events and Reporting
- D. Media Alliance Global News
- E. Transition Analysis and Reporting
- F. Real Time Media Access to Emerging Technologies and Projects
- G. Health and Well Being
- H. Land Use
- I. Community Development
- J. Documentary Channel
- K. The Voice of the Children
  - i. Homeschooling Curriculum Support Channel
  - ii. Leading projects of children in taking control of their destinies
- L. The Voice of the Planet
  - i. Animals, Plants, Nature, Systems, Ecology
  - ii. Earth Watch Channel (BioDiversity and Real Time Reporting of Conditions of the Natural World)
    - 1. Returning the Planet to its Original Balance
- M. The Voice of the People
  - i. Cultural Forum, Culture, Music and Art
  - ii. Diversity of Peoples, Nations and Cultures
  - iii. World Music
  - iv. World Forum, People's Movements

GEMSTONE Media Alliance

GEMSTONE Global Media Alliance

Structure and Purpose

The concept of a Global Media Alliance (“GMA”) is an integral part of the education and media intentions of this plan. Its purpose is to create a common ground for any and all forms of alternative media that have proliferated in the last fifteen years as a result of the internet and provide a “strength in numbers” foundation by means of the alliance. Such alternatives have begun to solidify as the new media of our world and thus the concept of an alliance built upon the elements previously discussed for societies and private contract associations can provide the integrating structure for mutual support and benefit, as well as protections and immunities within the framework of strength in numbers. The purpose of the alliance would be to draw together disparate forms of media that have emerged in recent years into a cohesive and integrated body, and to provide their proponents and principals the necessary education to access and implement the kind of strategies that have been incubated and perfected within PanTerra and GEMSTONE for the last fifteen years. In short, the purpose of the GMA is to strengthen and expand the alternative media voice and create the platform by which it can expand their reach.

This is, as with other elements we have discussed, established on the principle of a decentralized and distributed system. The old paradigm is one of centralization and hierarchical control. The purpose of the GMA is not to recreate the same problem, but to provide a true alternative. The principle of decentralization is paramount to such a new paradigm model. It will provide the ability for synergistic support and development as a counterbalance to the progressively anachronistic mainstream media that is better likened to the department of global propaganda. The GMA will establish the basis of support and enhanced performance of local reporting and investigation to be synergistically integrated with a global system, expanding access and thus influence and expanded awareness worldwide.

Some basic examples of the content that will be encouraged and supported include:

1. Current Event Reporting
2. Emerging New Systems (Technology, Projects, Economic Models, etc.)
3. Investigative Reporting
4. Political Watch
5. Reporting the Transition into a New World Paradigm

GEMSTONE Media Network

The media network will be the integrated delivery system discussed in other parts of this presentation. With increased strength based on the alliance principle, participants will be encouraged to join the media network for direct delivery of their content on the model of providing the members of the media society (which is all who wish to participate worldwide) a customizable platform in which they design and create their own media and educational home page. Thus, the members of the alliance who create content are provided a means to reach an ever expanding membership base who can choose from a menu system that organizes and categorizes the available content, and design their own personalized media network.

This will be developed side-by-side with a comprehensive global broadcasting and delivery system. It will be direct feed so that each member/participant can simply log in from any screen or device, with the simple tool of a member user ID and password, and have instant access to their personalized network and content. Eventually this will all be vertically integrated so that all participants including the end user, the technical teams, the architecture of the system and the methods of transmission and archiving are all part of the internal structure and system of the media alliance. In short, over time, this vision is one of manifesting a comprehensive media group that sees all participants and players as part of the system and structure on an equal footing basis.

With respect to content development, that will be a combination of independent GMA members developing and creating their own content as well as in-house projects created by regular reporting, investigating and production teams. The vertical integration system combined with the membership model will also make it very conducive to utilizing crowd funding type methods to fund and create projects such as documentaries and full length feature films. The system for doing so will be integrated in the overall alliance structure, and since it is all private, there are no restrictions such as securities issues that bind the public and limit what can or cannot be done.

Along with all of the above, which should be seen as simply a cursory synopsis of this concept, the GMA will facilitate the following:

1. Globally Deployed Delivery System
2. Local and Regional Reporting and Investigation Hubs
3. Content Archive as part of the educational and university system
4. Live Events Broadcasting
5. Disaster Relief and other Charitable Events
6. Development of New Educational Models
7. New Media controlled by the People and not by the Government/Corporations
8. Support of GMA members
9. Transition out of Corporate Model
10. Financial and Legal Restructuring and Support
11. Development of Integrative Learning and Interactive Education and Media Systems
12. Development of a Truly Intelligent Forum for Addressing Real Issues and Problems (local, regional, national and global), rather than a haphazard and disjointed model that is mostly propaganda driven instead of what is truly best for all concerned

UR Global Foundation

UR GLOBAL FOUNDATION

The UR Global foundation consists of two components, the Universal Resource Institute and the Integrative Management University. Together they represent an expression of the overall global model of our project, guided by the philosophical tenet that we are all one people, one world, and one ecology, and these must all be managed and organized in such a manner as to provide a sustainable future in a balanced world environment for all people and all living things. In order to achieve this, the cognizance that we are all in this together, that we are truly one and equal in life, must be promulgated and eventually understood by all. Thus, it is the intention of the UR Global Foundation to become a leader in this intention through these two complimentary functions of objectifying and quantifying the resource basis of a sustainable future as well as the ability to integrate a proper management and continuity of those resources in a manner that serves the greater good and fulfills the goal of a world that is best for all.

Universal Resources Institute (URI)

➤ GLOBAL RESOURCE ANALYSIS (FOR A SUSTAINABLE, BEST-FOR-ALL WORLD)

URI will be an organization that brings together a body of statistics and analysis premised on the foundation that there is enough for everyone. How are resources deployed? How are they wasted? How can systems be improved? These are fundamental questions that need to be quantified and seen clearly on local, regional, national, continental and global scales. In today's system resources are quantified only in terms of monetary value and gain, directed on the basis of hidden agendas premised on dominance and control; basically, self-interest and greed. The lies of lack and limitation are promoted everywhere one looks: in education, in media, in political debate, in the creation of false dialectics and in so many ways it boggles the mind. We live on a world consisting of three quarters water, yet the lie that there is a limitation of world resources is touted everyday. We live in a reality teeming with energy, in every cubic gram of water and every quantum of air, and yet the lie that there is a limit of energy is screamed across every channel. The purpose of URI will be to develop and communicate the truth of the matter, in conjunction with the GEMSTONE system of universities, media, education and intellectual advancement.

Some of the areas of focus of URI are identified in the following key points:

1. Identification and Quantification of Resource Requirements
2. Identification and Mapping of Environment Degradation and Requirements for Remediation and Rebuilding
3. Social Analysis for Remedial and Re-purposing Requirements
4. Core Services Analysis Protocols for Identification of Requirements and Implementation Models
5. Establishment of Base Living Requirements ("BLR") for Local, Regional and National Levels (where a minimum level is established for a sustainable life of integrity for every man, woman and child, which is not necessarily defined in monetary terms but in essentials of life terms)
6. Incubation and Development of Local, Regional, Continental and Global Resource Management
7. Implementation of Projects and Technologies
8. Development of Comprehensive Resource Data Bases on All Levels
9. Development of New Models for Local Resource Development, Use, and Management
10. Identification of Deficit Locations

11. Mapping of Global Rebuilding Requirements
12. Integrated Community Development Systems, Models and Design Templates

International Management University (IMU)

➤ TRAINING NEW PARADIGM IMPLEMENTATION

Along with the facts, statistics, analysis and modeling intended to be incubated, integrated and organized within the Universal Resource Institute, a sister organization will be established whose purpose is to train and educate the people who will populate the new world system and models. This includes those who will fill the roles for new management and administrative team players and partners. This will be an integrated component of our GEMSTONE University and Global Media Alliance. The purpose of these two is as discussed above, education and media. The IMU will be specifically focused on the people element, providing opportunities for those who wish to retrain themselves into positions in the new paradigm models, and to provide younger people and succeeding generations a place to come to train for their lives and careers in meaningful jobs, positions and co-creative participation. We will be training and graduating the new generations of management, executives, administrative, and hands-on builders and team players.

New Paradigm: You Are I & I Am You (URI & IMU)

➤ BREAKING DOWN OLD PREJUDICES, BELIEFS, AND SYSTEMS OF SEPARATION

The new paradigm into which we are directing our intent and purpose is quite simple. It is based on the foundation that we are truly not separate: neither from ourselves, our fellow man, the environment we live in, the plant and animal kingdoms or the planet as a whole. We are not separate from Life! And yet, we act in every way possible as if we are, and the old paradigm that we have created by our own acceptance and allowance is based on just such an illusion and belief that we are separate from everything. Underlying that fact is the central driving force of most of humanity, which is self-interest, self-absorption and self-focus. This is true on the individual level, as well as the social, political, racial, ethnic and religious levels. It is based on the self-induced fantasy that most humans have that we can go on this way forever in our destructive, consumptive, extractive and depleting ways, and this planet and the universe will just keep on giving us the latitude to self-delude and commit planetary ecocide. Well, that party has come to an end, and we are now in the beginning of the Age of Consequences, where the harvest we reap will be directly determined by the seeds that we sow.

Thus, a new paradigm is required, symbolized by our anagram play on words, where these two institutions as described above express that we are not separate, that we are in fact mirror images and expressions of each other, that You Are I and I Am You, and we have to shift into such a new paradigm model in real terms, not platitudes or mystical fantasies. We have to recognize that we do unto ourselves as we are doing unto others, and if we sow the seeds of hate, spite, revenge, anger, jealousy and the all encompassing enemy construct by which we project our own inner separation onto everything and everyone but ourselves, then we will reap such a harvest for ourselves and our world.

But there is a way out and it is based on the necessity to rearrange the constituent parts of our existing world. Our current institutions can be made to work in a world that is best for all, we just need a rethinking and re-purposing of how they are directed. This is the intent of our model, to bring forward a fusion and integration of the primary elements of the banking/financial system with that of the communications/data system, integrated with new technologies in essential sectors such as energy, food, water, physical well being and resource management, coupled with an honest money system, infused and directed with digital and crypto currencies, non-usurious, parity based, debt-free currencies, enhanced by systems of self-liquidating credit combined with new energy technologies as further discussed below, all of which shall serve to bring about the demise of the old paradigm of energy/money control systems, which in turn shall liberate people to build new world systems.

Shift From Hierarchical to Holographic Structure, Shift from Limitation to Unlimited Potential

The essence of our model and plan is to posit a new paradigm for the future of economic and monetary structures that are infused with the philosophy and practical applications of a world system that actually works for all beings (all members of the human race, the plant and animal kingdoms, the planetary ecology and environment), and then to build it out as a prototype for replication and scalable expansion. The old paradigm is very simply stated as one based on the inculcation of the belief system that we live in a world of lack and limitation. This belief is hard wired into everything we do from cradle to grave, from pre-school at home to social indoctrination in the government controlled school systems, to corporate modeling of graduate students into corporate citizenship, all underwritten with a foundational substrate of fear and survival. Such a paradigm is principally founded on two elements: 1) A hierarchical structure integrated throughout the social, economic, political and religious structures of the world; and 2) A tightly controlled economic model that is based on the belief of lack and limitation through the control of primary resources, starting with “money” as it is hardwired to energy, and then cascading down through the relevant essentials of life such as food, water, housing, land and other physical needs. In the context of the hierarchal structure there is a well-established stratification on a socio-economic caste system, with the elite control sitting at the apex in the form of the alpha male principle.

All of which is a lie, but one that the world population has accepted and allowed for millennia. For after all, at the center of the word BELIEVE is the word LIE. We are trained to believe in all the religions, whether they be legal, medical, social, racial, financial, egotistical or, uh, what was that other one, oh yeah, religious. All of which are fundamentally infused with the lie that is hardwired into their fabric, which is basically the very fabric of our lives, one that is now commonly called the matrix. And the world matrix is derived from the Latin roots from which we get the words mother, material, matter and derivatives thereof, indicating that we have accepted and allowed a paradigm that is hardwired into the very fabric of our material existence in this world, the warp and woof of which are nothing but lies.

Thus, the task ahead is to posit a new paradigm, build the model, demonstrate its efficacy in solving real problems and creating a replicable and scalable model. This we can see as one that is holographic or spherical in nature, where there is no top, no hierarchy of control and limitation, and in which there are an infinite number of directive principle points in the center of each spherical manifestation. These central points are human beings who are trained in a different manner than what has been the case of the past, that manner being that we do in fact have the capacity to express and manifest our unlimited potential. In order to do that, the two primary control points of limitation must be removed, that being money and energy. Once these are removed as limitations, then the rest will flow outward from there. Of course, the key is that there is an absolute essential ingredient that must come with this new paradigm of utmost potential in capacity and manifestation, and that is the element of self-responsibility. This will be addressed at the end of this presentation and is one of the foundational planks of our educational and media model.

So how will this be resolved. For one to be at the center of one's universe, out of which will flow the expression of one's creative force in manifestation, there are several things required. One is what was discussed earlier in the context of the premium course that we have developed entitled Status Correction, whereby one disengages from the bondage of surety attachment to the debtor franchise of the bankrupt system, as well as from the designed model of the old paradigm of perpetual debt. One can never be creative and expressing one's fullest potential if one is bonded to perpetual debt, which of course is the purpose and intent of the old paradigm's design. Thus, to be capable of full expression of one's utmost potential, one must remove those shackles. Then one must be redirected into a channel of creative capacities that is not limited by lack of financial means or limitation of motive or kinetic energy to support one's life and work. Thirdly, once these two are achieved, one now stands in the center of one's universe, interdependent and gravitationally balanced and stable with all other beings who are also (progressively) achieving the same stability and capacity. Without the old paradigm constraints we can create, we can clean up our collective mess on this planet and we can build a new future that is best for all.

In order to do that, the old paradigm system of parasitic entropy that has built into it planned obsolescence and failure must be replaced with one that is rewired to support and enhance our unlimited potential. This translates to the requirement of unlimited financial means, unlimited energy, sustainable resource management models and a foundation of self-responsibility in service to the greater good and not egocentric service to self. Easy enough to say, perhaps not so easy to achieve. But we can achieve it in a prototypical model that can then be made available for others to learn, follow, emulate and enhance in their own method of expression.

To bring this back to center, then, requires a revisit of the point of all of this discussion and our intended model, which is that we must be uncoupled from the belief in the lie of limitation when it comes to money and energy. This will be achieved in two concurrent ways. One is to pursue what is being discussed in this document as the developmental focus of our model, which is the disengaging from the current monetary and banking systems. This is achievable through the above discussed shift into the utility of the debt free, parity system of digital and cryptographically protected currency that is not cyclically retired by taxation, inflation and interest. The other is the bringing forth of practical methods of energy extraction that is not consumptive nor environmentally destructive, i.e., new technologies as discussed above. Once these two basics are achieved, then they can be hardwired to each other, so that the harnessing of new energy technologies is associated with the parallel creation of new currencies. Currency is "birthed" in parallel with the production of energy and is not retired as in the old model, but expands with the concurrent manifestation of useable energy for our homes, our modes of transport, our factories and our land use for food, water, forestry, and all the other things that make for a stable and balanced life.

There is absolutely no reason that every home or nuclear community on this planet cannot be self-sustaining, where the production of energy and food, along with water, plant based medicinals and other essentials for life, are produced in situ. The technologies and designs for such models already exist. They just have to be objectified and allowed to be produced and distributed. This, then, means that the individual or the family or the community becomes their own bank, their own central point of emanation and creation, whereby as they create the essentials for life in their own homes and communities. Then they are monetized in a parity model without taxation, inflation, interest and the other methodologies of hidden extraction of wealth that has delivered this planet, its people and the environment in the deplorable state that we are living in today.

Education and Promotion of New Paradigm Thinking

This element will work hand-in-hand with our educational and media broadcasting models. It is time to shift the world population away from the beliefs and lies that have brought us to our current state of disrepair in this world. In order to do that, we will build, integrate and launch a media campaign to promote this new model and way of thinking in the new paradigm. Ultimately, this will be brought to full expression in the integration of all of the elements herein described. All participants in our activities at every level will do so as members of a private society and private contract association. We will develop and implement public relations, promotion and educational campaigns to bring this to the people, and those who it speaks to will be provided a method for easy access to step on board. This will be a web-based presence similar to what we already have in place for those who become members of the PanTerra D'Oro Private Society and the GEMSTONE University. A simple online sign up enables a new member to step into the private side of our society. There they access all the elements of what we have to offer.

Once we have the financial, technical and personnel resources, this will be advanced, refined and expanded. When a new member comes on board, they will automatically be taken to where they can construct their own home web page within our interactive system. That page will be customizable so that everyone can build their own education, media and interactive participation model. Whatever their interests, the courses they take, their own custom library of written, audio and video materials, whatever their interests, their networking, their areas of focus, the projects they wish to follow, their financial management, all of it will be at their fingertips. The media and broadcasting system that will have the channels and content described above can be custom structured to their tastes and interests, and it will follow them wherever they go on the planet through fixed or mobile devices.

In this way each and every member will be encouraged to be a co-creator, to be proactive in building their own individualized models of self-expression and manifestation, while at the same time provided the tools and the means to interact on local, regional, national and global levels with those of like-mind and intent, by finding complimentary and supportive participants in their areas of interest and focus.

The key and central points upon which the public relations and promotional endeavors will be founded are the following concepts:

1. Oneness, Equality and Self-Responsibility
2. Global Educational Media Standing Together One & Equal \(GEMSTONE\)
3. Celebration of Life and All Peoples and Cultures, Through Art, Music, Dance and All Manner of Expression
4. Working Together to Build a Sustainable World that is Best for All

Oneness is the basis of recognizing the interconnected nature of all of Life, in which every life form and every being is honored for the life force within it and such life and existence is honored as one and equal to that which we ourselves hold and wish to preserve and protect for all of existence. Equality is the cognizance that we are truly all just one interwoven fabric of Life and when we honor and respect the life force in all beings, then we are equally honored and sustained. This is and shall be ever and always the foundation upon which this Society and this Model shall be established and built.

We are fundamentally, first and foremost, a society established on a globally expressed educational mandate dedicated to the world and future generations. Thus, the GEM that we have found and are bringing forth for this world is Global Educational Media, expressed within the context that we are Standing Together in that Oneness and Equality that we call GEMSTONE! Above all else, within the human family, we celebrate the uniqueness of every being in his or her own manifest expression, and we are here to support and enhance such expression to achieve and bring forth the utmost potential in every living man, woman and child on this Earth in their individual and fullest expression, while at the same time celebrating the unity of Life we all share and celebrating the diversity of expression through cultural exchange and honoring the beauty of Life in ourselves and each other.

Telecommunications, Data and Broadcasting Systems

Telecommunications, Data and Broadcasting Systems

Since 1997 the principals of the PanTerra D'Oro Society have been engaged with the telecommunications industry, beginning with playing a key founding, investment and development role in a small telecom company in San Diego, California that became the holder of one of eight Tier One master licenses for telecommunications in Mexico after it privatized its telecom sector in 1992. Unfortunately, due to the dotcom bubble burst and other factors, around 2000 that company never fulfilled itself. Nonetheless, it initiated a fifteen-year immersion in the telecom and data fields, with study, research, investment and several attempts to build out the intentions as one of the two platform planks for the PanTerra "House" (with reference to our original image we have encouraged the reader to hold in his or her mind). This process served to galvanize the understanding of the key role that telecommunications and data presented as the parallel track side-by-side with the banking/financial/monetary sector. Now, with the emergence and convergence of these two fields into the digital and crypto currency revolution, and how it bodes for the future intentions of this plan, what was envisioned and progressively realized over the last eighteen years is now coming into focus.

In the mid 2000s we partnered with several telecom and data groups and founded a company in Panama to encapsulate it all, named TeleCommunity. The intent was the same as defined in this presentation, of creating a community focus and effort to combine the best of the essential elements into a global alliance community and build the necessary platforms and functions to achieve the goals. Although our past efforts may not have succeeded in one sense, it did in the other, that being the honing and refining of the understanding of this key ingredient to our plan, as well as linking up over the years with many technologies, innovators, visionaries and business models to bring forward the intent and goal.

The foundation of this is to bring together the various elements to forge a unified system as the platform to integrate the various elements as discussed above. This includes:

1. Linking the land based Living Universities into a unified global system on a virtual basis so that each physical location becomes a node for the global system.
2. Each node is self-contained and self-generating, while at the same time integrated with the global community for the education, media, broadcasting, data management, project organization and other components of the whole system.
3. Live broadcasting, archived resources and interactive systems are part of the TeleCommunity model for the GEMSTONE University and Global Media Alliance.

New financial and monetary models, that utilize and integrate traditional forms of banking and financial management, will be utilized in a parallel fashion along with the emerging new paradigm track of the digital currency model. Progressively, the former is a method of value and wealth creation that is bridged by the transfer mechanism into the receptacle of the points herein discussed, those being the private societies, projects, technologies, parity value and honest money systems and the maturing process of a TeleCommunity of locally based and globally integrated participants.

Ultimately, this will find its own balance, homeostasis and dynamic creativity once a sufficient number of participants come on board, along with a quantum of value creation that "hits" an activation point where the system becomes self-contained and fully interactive. At that point the continuing input of value into the system that is “monetized” in a parity system that is debt-free, self-generating and sustainable becomes a virtual private network and a virtual private economy. At that point there are no limits and there are no limitations on the capacity for creativity and achieving manifested potential for all, within the context of self-responsibility and self-regulation that of course is paramount and essential to its success (which will come from the continuing education, media and content of the rest of the system).

Banking and Financial Systems

Banking and Financial Systems

In order to delineate a summary overview of our intent and purpose within this subject, we must take a moment to consider what is a debt-free, self-generating, self-contained, self-responsible monetary model based on a principle of parity. Firstly, what is parity? It is simply that principle that when creating and operating a monetary system, the unit of measure should be stable and “on par” with the input unit of value. Value is inputted in three basic ways, through 1) Human effort (labor, intellectual design, and manufacturing); 2) Raw resources (material and energy); and 3) The value added combination of the first two. Ultimately, each one of the three elements, by themselves or in combination, create value. Each component of value has a quantum to which an objective division or unit of value is applied. In a parity system, one unit of value is equal to one unit of measure. The sustainability of a parity system is based on the confidence and consensus agreement of the participants as to the objective relationship between these two points.

To achieve a sustainable parity model, it has to be a system that is self-generating and self-determined, not one with an external control. The people and the system itself determine how the unit of measure is created and how it is applied. This is the opposite of our current system in which each unit of measure comes with a commensurate unit of interest bearing debt. When this is the foundation of a new parity system it can be a sustainable model of value creation and wealth motility is directed towards the real and practical requirements of who created the wealth in the first place, i.e., the people, the resources, and the world from which they emerged and to which they are ultimately bound by the nature of life and existence.

A monetary system can be one of circulation to facilitate trade and value creation as well as a system of value retention (repository). Our system today fulfills the first function but in reality does not fulfill the other. Through the hidden magic of taxation, inflation and interest, and many other subtle and manipulative mathematical constructs, the current monetary system is a wealth extraction system and one of debt entrapment. It is set up so that the real wealth defined as equity rises to the top into the hands of the few, while the burden of debt is laid upon the actual creators of that wealth and upon the lives and shoulders of the many. The scope and manner by which this is done is beyond the reach of this presentation; nonetheless, it is important to state, because what we are intending to create and participate with others worldwide in such a creation, is a new model, one in which the circulating medium of currency is not limited and controlled, but is expanding as real work and real wealth is created. One need only look at the condition of our world today in which millions are fleeing their war torn homelands, and billions are on the brink of destruction due to disease, poverty, environmental collapse and other factors, to know that our current model is fatally flawed.

But as is posited by the concept of the Transfer Mechanism and the Receptacle, what is required is a transitional phase, not a revolution or a collapse. In the context of our immersion in law, we have come to understand that the commercial world was created on the principle of battle and war. We are in a global system of military occupation in which the rules of that occupation have set it up so that if we continue to enter the battlefield we are considered and acted upon as enemies of the state and enemy belligerents. As such, the rules of suppression of insurgency kick in, and we are kept in the trap. So, we have declared peace as a Society and as an organization. This detail can be seen on our public notice site at www.panterrapca.org under the Public Notices menu item.

Our individual processes of status correction actively engage the steps to withdraw from the battlefield of commerce and out from under the compression of military occupation. Thus, within that context, we are at peace with the United States and all other sovereign bodies in the world. That, of course, means our intentions are of an honorable and equitable nature and performance. Our intent is to transition into a fair and equitable banking, monetary and financial system within the context that we are neutral in the public and do not and will not do anything to undermine the current order of affairs. We are proceeding forward with the understanding that we have an inherent and immutable right of self-determination, and can create a new receptacle into which value and life-enhancing principles can be created and conveyed. In order to fulfill such intentions and mandates we are driven by our personally held and long-engaged principles and intentions. Those who wish to join us are encouraged and invited to do so, and are able to do so upon their own personal principles and the universal principles of self-determination and free moral agency as recognized in this world.

The beauty and facility of a private society is that it has been recognized and upheld over many hundreds of years, and within that context, it is free to engage and perform as it sees best for the mutual benefit and like-minded purpose of all its constituents. That includes establishing and maintaining its own law form, its own jurisdiction, its own banking and treasury system, and whatever else it deems appropriate and required to fulfill its mission and stated purposes. The fundamental function of the banking/financial/monetary component, as a parallel track with the other component discussed above for telecommunications/data, is an unassailable and essential building block of this plan. It will be achieved by an integrated process of participating in the current model and system, while building our own private and parallel system, co-creating with other like-minded individuals, groups and organizations, and achieving an integrating balance between all the component parts.

It will be achieved by an integrated process of participating in the current model and system, while building our own private and parallel system, co-creating with other like-minded individuals, groups and organizations, and achieving an integrating balance between all the component parts.

In practical terms, and as the starting point, the first phase of this will include the following within the two sectors (current and new models):

NEW BANK CHARTERS and EXISTING BANK ACQUISITIONS

Within our membership we have a wide range of expertise in this field and therefore, upon capital activation, an immediate strategy of due diligence and development will be instituted to find existing bank charters available for sale and undertake the due diligence required to determine viability of moving forward with such acquisition(s). At the same time, we have already determined several jurisdictions and have the required relationships in place to move expeditiously for immediate chartering of new banks. These will be private, international and merchant style banks for purposes of facilitating member, alliance partner and other societies (groups, associations, organizations, projects) in their banking and financial management requirements. Also, with our own in-house banks, alliance and strategic partner banking relationships and other in-house systems of financial management, we can achieve a vertical integration in this key sector. Additionally, by having our own in-house banking facilities, the liaison and interface necessary for utilizing both existing fiat currencies, bullion and asset backed currencies, and private digital and crypto currencies will be greatly enhanced and facilitated.

One key area to understand this last point is that the ICCSS and all currencies inclusive therein, as an integrated system, have successfully used a tiered structure underwritten by the digital currency to create acceptable commercial instruments (Bills of Exchange, International Promissory Notes) for table top and platform buy-sell facilities. The above referenced commitment by one of the key players within the Bright Star Work Center can be utilized for that purpose, to extract and direct capital into this plan and ancillary and emerging projects. Having our own in-house banks or related institutions, or those aligned through strategic alliance partners, will enhance and facilitate this function. For long term strategy it will greatly assist the expanded use and development of digital and crypto currencies and the ability to convert them to circulating fiat currencies when necessary.

Overall, the intent is to combine in-house entities and institutions with strategic alliance partners in a global consortium, with primary focus on providing services for both in-house projects and development, as well as for other members, societies and organizations. This will of course be directed to and with the like-minded common ground of commitment to applied purposes for the benefit of society at large, people-based opportunities in economic, social and environmental projects and virtually anything that fits the model of working to the benefit of healing our planet and creating a world that is best for all. In short, the combination of what has been outlined in this model integrates the outreach via education and media with the practical on-the-ground primary functions of banking/finance and communications/data as we have discussed.

Another focus will be hard assets in the commodity and mineral fields. Our founders have been involved with these businesses through the gemstone, diamond, jewelry and mining sectors for nearly four decades. An extensive network of relationships is in place to activate and expand within this field when the timing is right. One key focus in this regard is to create another global alliance with small and independent miners that have had challenges and struggles based on the vicissitudes of market and currency manipulations. If these mines had a secure and stable system to direct their production in which the bullion produced became the parity backing of a designated asset backed currency in digital/crypto form then such an alliance could become an integral part of the entire system. In such a structure the miners would be able to use that specific currency internally and interactively with other members of the system, as well as it being deployed into a larger private economy and convertible when required to any other currency because the settlement and conversion rates were stable and backed by real value.

One function that fits right into that context is the use of digital currencies to create real bills that constitute forward commitment purchases and contracts to dovetail into such an asset backed currency. All of this fits into the same model as described herein, with the private society, alliance structure and all the rest of it. There are many tools that will support and enhance such a model, some drawn from traditional economic models that have been marginalized or suppressed because they did not fit into the 20th Century model of rape and pillage economics, and others that are newly emerging innovations. The bottom line is to integrate a complete system that supports a new paradigm model that is powered by and empowering to the actual people and communities that are the creators and source of capital (life force) that has always run the world. It is time to dispel the illusions that have been indoctrinated and inculcated into the mass consciousness of this world, such simple things as eliminating the belief that the only place money can be found is in the local branch of the megabank and the only way to get it is to bond oneself into a lifetime of debt. Most people believe this is the only way, and it is time for that to change. In fact, it is already changing and the PanTerra D'Oro Society and GEMSTONE Global Media Alliance, and all the other referenced associated groups, are bringing together the synthesis understanding and practical applications to be a part of this transformation in our world. Many elements that were just an idea twenty years ago when we founded this society and laid the foundational principles in place, have now come forth and are maturing rapidly. Thus, we do not have to reinvent the wheel or invent many of these new things, but simply to integrate this model into practical reality and go to work!

A WORD ABOUT BUDGET and EXPANDED DETAIL

This presentation does not include any detailed spreadsheets for costs, capital expenditures, monthly and annual budgets and all the rest of the necessary elements of a complete business plan. This is not, in fact, a business plan, but an overview of a comprehensive master plan that has been nurtured and developed for twenty-five years. It represents countless hours of many people's contributions, research and life's work. We have hundreds of members and perhaps a network of thousands of associated players, all too numerous to include here, so there are no faces or personalities that are being included. What is important to understand is the convergent process of the years of development, now brought together into this integrated master plan, so that the quantum of the entire concept can be digested, contemplated and understood. It does take delving deep into the details and allowing them to percolate until the cohesive picture clarifies in one's awareness and understanding, as it is truly a disruptive concept from what we have been trained and programmed to believe is true. As we have stated here, much of what we think is the truth of our world and our lives is fundamentally built on lies and illusion. We live in a false paradigm and holographic reality of our own making, because we are not separate from the whole, and ultimately we are fully responsible. If we exert our life force and other capacities into the futility of complaint and blame, we will never make a difference; rather, we must start with taking full and complete responsibility for everything. None of us are separate from what we have accepted and allowed in this world, from the wars, the starvation, the disease, the poverty, the collapse of ecosystems, the mass extinction event already well underway and the horrid degradation of our environment.

We must do something and the time is not only now, but the time to start is well in the past. We are at the precipice of incalculable disaster, but we are also standing in the moment of imminent potential. The choice is ours, individually and collectively. This entire report is our choice. We are here, prepared and ready to make what you have read here a reality. If what you have read resonates with you, then you can make a choice to come aboard and build this with us. That choice is yours. We are here to help, we are here to serve and we are here to roll up our sleeves and do what is necessary to make that imminent potential a manifested reality.

In the year 2000 during an earlier attempt to bring this intention forward, a document was written as a foundational declaration of intention. It has been rewritten numerous times, yet has remained essentially constant in the foundation of its intent and purpose.

“Africans have a thing called Ubuntu. It is about the essence of being human, it is part of the gift that Africa will give the world. It embraces hospitality, caring about others, being willing to go the extra mile for the sake of another. We believe that a person is a person through other persons; that my humanity is caught up, bound up, inextricably, with yours. When I dehumanize you, I inexorably dehumanize myself. The solitary human being is a contradiction in terms. Therefore you seek to work for the common good because your humanity comes into its own in community, in belonging.”

Summary, Conclusion and Maxims of Equity

SUMMARY, CONCLUSION and MAXIMS OF EQUITY

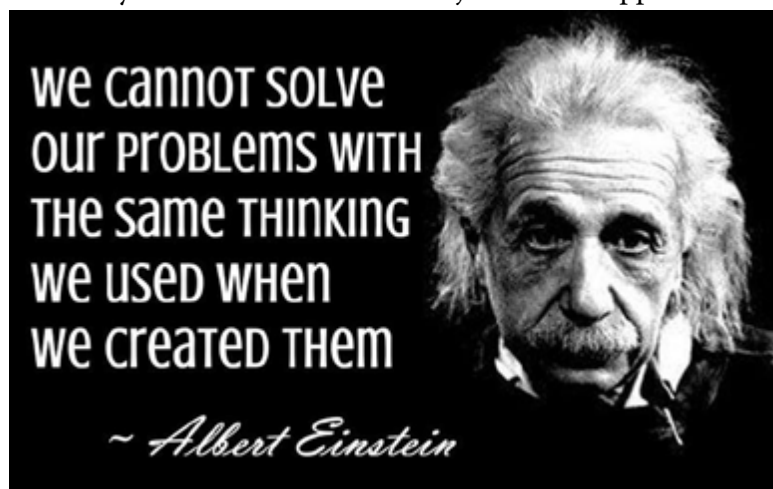

In conclusion, the following is a summary of the salient points of this plan:

- ▶ PanTerra D'Oro is a Private Society that has worked diligently for over twenty years to bring this vision to realization
- ▶ Its primary focus has been deep research into foundational origins and current structure of Law, History and Monetary Structures
- ▶ Its Master Plan purpose is to continue building this model into a global consortium as a "central clearing house" for education and media with an integration of the best in communications and data technologies along with land-based community development into a comprehensive model
- ▶ To integrate that model with the emerging new paradigm of digital and crypto currencies within a virtual private economy and network that operates in tandem with the current world system, and does so upon a grounding of peace and cooperation, not conflict and controversy
- ▶ Through advanced research and practical development we have brought forth some of the most advanced applications for correcting one's status to remove oneself from the onerous burden of perpetual debt from cradle to grave, and with that new status to have the standing and capacity to come together in newly created societies on the same model, to advance their purposes, projects, technologies and intentions
- ▶ We are building a New House as a template and prototype model for many others to use and advance in their own ways; the house's foundation is the parallel tracks of Banking & Finance and Communications & Data; its framework and structure consists of a private society membership association that brings forth projects, technologies and real work for practical solutions in the world, that is run and supported on the two parallel tracks; its roof is the protective enclosure of a living and virtual university system combined with a global media alliance that disseminates education and provides universal access to archived knowledge, live broadcast events and educational platforms and an interactive global community of like-minded people with the foundational intent of building and perfecting a new world paradigm.

In the course of studying law and all of the permutations and relationships that that one subject portends to this world system, what we have discovered is a very simple and distinct framework and underlying principle. The continuum of the world system and legal/monetary structure therein was inexorably directed by a small group of people (world controllers) to a culminating point in the early 1930s. That point brought all nations into a global corporate structure in which every country was converted to a corporation and all those corporations were put into bankruptcy. Concurrent with that event was the conclusion of a several hundred year program to establish a global military occupation in which all of the national/corporate (bankrupt) entities were under the control of a military occupier under the rules of conquest, civil codification, monetary bondage and usufruct. Usufruct refers to the fact that the military occupier only holds the persons and property of the conquered nations via the law of necessity and use. In the end, the same persons and property must be returned to the rightful owners, unless a state of perpetual war and emergency exists. That perpetual state is exactly what has been put in place over the last one hundred years and more; and just as George Orwell said, in Orwellian Doublespeak “War is Peace”. And the entire world judicial system and related law enforcement and bureaucratic systems are in place to suppress any belligerency or rebellion against such a system.

But there is a remedy, and we have found it. The remedy is simple, declare peace and remove oneself from the field of battle. The people of this world are the rightful beneficiaries of the Global Estate. All public, commercial and monetary functions are in fact predicated on the principle of battle, war and controversy; to engage with it, one is on the field of battle, and as such, one is considered an enemy of the state. As an enemy of the state we are all subject to the suppression of any acts contrary to the world agenda as we see it manifested today, and every injustice and “unconstitutional” act is technically allowed, because all is structured as a method of suppressing insurrection. Our path is one of peace and removal from this madness that we have been trained into and indoctrinated to believe is real and normal. It is neither. But only with education and awareness through media can we wake up the masses to such a dilemma as we have thus far accepted and allowed, both individually and collectively. If we do not step off of this “holodeck” we are bound for certain destruction. We use the term holodeck from Star Trek because that is what it is; a holographic projection of a mass consensus illusion and hallucination that we accept as real. Yet, the point of convergence between illusion and reality is the physical world, where real people are displaced in the millions by the machines of war, the planetary body is ripped asunder by the machinations of an economic model that has no balance and no sense left in it, and billions of children and their families are living on the edge of survival, whilst the “first world” blithely meanders its way to the movie house to get its next propaganda and fantasy fix. But a global awakening process can be achieved by the quantum effect that a small number of people in a unified manner can establish a new grounding in this real world and the ripple effects of that manifested presence will move through the collective whole and exert its influence to create a continuum of transformation that cannot be stopped. That is our intent!

Within the course of study we have discussed herein, and specifically as relates to the realm of law, something little known and hidden from most has emerged into our awareness and now shines brightly as a pre-eminent point of grounding and presence as we move forward. That point is the understanding of the history and nature of Equity. Its history is too much to go into in this current report, but suffice to say that by the above described mechanisms of creating a global military occupation, our entire legal and judicial system has been hijacked by the martial rulers that have constructed this world system; by so doing, access to true Equity Jurisprudence was submerged and in its place was put a “concurrent system” based on something called the Judicature Acts of 1873 & 1875, and the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure in the 1930s. By those acts and rules real common law and true equity were converted to a similitude and combined into one form called civil procedure. Civil codes are really within admiralty, the law of the sea, and that jurisdiction rules over bankruptcy. In the bankrupt system of national corporations all the world’s people have been placed as the bonded and indentured servants by voluntary participation and have been hard wired into the martial field of battle. In such a status we cannot access true equity, which is why we must correct that status. If we do not, we remain as indentured servants, bonded chattel and human resources for a world system that is the antithesis of Life. Instead, we choose real standing and status, founded upon the universal principles of Equity Jurisprudence.

We will end this report with a brief discussion of each of the primary Maxims of Equity, because therein we find equitable remedy and a philosophical framework for where we must direct ourselves into the future. Keep in mind, that one must remove oneself from the field of battle and change one’s voluntary status as the bankrupted, bonded surety to the debtor system in order to have access to these maxims. This is the path we are guiding our members now, and as referenced above in the Status Correction course description, it is the only way out of the illusions we have described.

MAXIMS OF EQUITY

➤ EQUITY SEES THAT AS DONE WHAT OUGHT TO BE DONE.

True Equity will always see the entire picture of any given circumstance and will see all that must be done as done; we must ask ourselves, is this world one in which such a maxim is being applied? Are we seeing what is done being done in equity and equanimity? Or are we perpetuating the problem because we “want what is ours” to the detriment of the rest? If we want Equity, we must change our ways. What must be done is create a new world model as one that is best for all.

➤ EQUITY WILL NOT SUFFER A WRONG TO BE WITHOUT A REMEDY.

Equity will not allow the continuation of something that is wrong without a remedy. Our entire plan herein is based on not suffering the wrongs of this world and thus we bring forth our contribution to a remedy, seeking it to be equitable and balanced, summarized in the phrase to do “what is best for all”.

➤ EQUITY DELIGHTS IN EQUALITY.

We are all equal in the value of life; we have participated in the illusions of a monetary system that creates separation and competition, a game of musical chairs in which only some get the goodies and most suffer the consequences, all of which certainly has no equality nor delight. Only when every human being and every living system is afforded a true right to Life, a balanced life of integrity and opportunity, will we have real Equity in this world and we can thus delight in such equality.

➤ ONE WHO SEEKS EQUITY MUST DO EQUITY.

This is referring to the fact that equity sees all things in an equation, and to achieve the remedy for the wrongs of this world, to arrive at a point of delight in Equity, the value of life must be recalculated, within the true basis of law that states “Do Unto Others as You Would Have Done Unto You”. That is true Equity. Are you living it now? Are we, collectively, living it? Ultimately, this maxim is stating that all value must be recognized; if we want the value of our life to be honored, we must value the life in every being.

➤ EQUITY AIDS THE VIGILANT, NOT THOSE WHO SLUMBER ON THEIR RIGHTS.

We have slumbered on our rights and have never claimed our true estate and beneficial interests. By so doing, we have slept through the day and night as the bars to our prison were painted steely gray and the locks were put in place. The remedy is to claim our rights and stand on them. Taking full responsibility for the conditions of this world is the first principle and first step to take our world and our lives into our own control and rebuild it within the principles of Equity and Balance. We must be ever vigilant. Our new educational and media model is a contribution to that vigilance.

➤ EQUITY IMPUTES AN INTENT TO FULFILL AN OBLIGATION.

If and as we claim our rights, our lives and our substance, we stand in equity and therefore, Equity will proceed on the basis that there is an intent to fulfill an obligation. And what obligation might that be? It is our own obligation to walk ourselves into balance and equality, to move this world into one based on these Maxims of Equity, to return to the delight of Equality and Oneness in Life.

➤ EQUITY ACTS IN PERSONAM OR ON PERSONS.

What this means is the civil/legal/martial system we have been bonded into is a realm of fiction, legal entities that do not exist in reality, fictions of the mind. In Equity there are real people, real responsibility and real liability. We can only face our own individual and collective consequences if we leave that realm of illusion and face ourselves in the real world. It ultimately means that we are all responsible and cannot hide behind the illusions of limited liability.

➤ EQUITY ABHORS A FORFEITURE.

What is the biggest forfeiture we have perpetrated in this world? The forfeit of life, the assertion that many must suffer and die so that the few can live and thrive. We have no equity in this world because we have tacitly allowed such an abhorrent condition that is the antithesis of Life. We have demanded that many must forfeit their lives so that some can have the niceties and all the goodies that those who create them are denied. Is this Equity? Is this Equality? Is this Oneness?

➤ EQUITY DOES NOT REQUIRE AN IDLE GESTURE.

Superficial platitudes and gestures mean nothing in the real world or to the substance of Life. None of it is required. Only real effort and real commitment and real responsibility can elicit true Equity. We are standing on this principle, and we invite others to dig deep and do the same.

➤ HE WHO COMES INTO EQUITY MUST COME WITH CLEAN HANDS.

This maxim underwrites all the rest in that if we expect to have equity in our lives we must come clean, and not expect rewards based on hidden agendas, underlying fraud or denial of responsibility. The inherent and substantive nature of equitable rights is that they are fair, just, equal and balanced. If we want a stable world we must come into it with clean hands, which requires true self-honesty, to take responsibility for our mistakes, our transgressions and our participation in the wrongs of this world.

➤ EQUITY DELIGHTS TO DO JUSTICE AND NOT BY HALVES.

Justice is not a half way measure or proposition. Equity will not do justice by halves, but will only take into account what is just for all. That is the true and only definition of a world that is best for all.

➤ EQUITY WILL TAKE JURISDICTION TO AVOID A MULTIPLICITY OF SUITS.

We have been led astray into the litigious miasm of the legal and judicial system. It is a world of spite, revenge, greed and war. It is a field of battle that seeks victory through stratagems and manipulation. It is one in which a multiplicity of suits is the order of the day for those who will prey on the undefended and the innocent. Therefore, Equity will take jurisdiction to avoid that vastly distorted field of battle and bring all elements into view so that Equity and Justice can be done.

➤ EQUITY FOLLOWS THE LAW.

When equity takes jurisdiction it will still honor the precepts and requirements of the law; therefore, there is a true balance in equity jurisprudence in the applications and principles of law side by side with the Maxims of Equity that assure justice.

➤ EQUITY WILL NOT AID A VOLUNTEER.

This is simple. Our entire system as briefly described above, is one in which we have volunteered into the condition and circumstances that we have accepted and allowed. We have volunteered to be sureties for perpetual debt. We have volunteered to be debt slaves to a monetary system that has gone mad with greed. As such, we have no access to equity, we are only afforded the privileges and benefits that the “system” deems we deserve, and what can be given can be taken away. Equity will not come to our aid when we are a volunteer. Thus we must rescind that voluntary status and stand on our rights with vigilance and equanimity, in order to see Equity done in this world.

➤ EQUITY WILL NOT COMPLETE AN IMPERFECT GIFT.

This, too, is simple. The gift we have been given is that of Life. But it remains imperfect for we have not completed it. We have instead volunteered to have our lives and our life force be bonded into servitude, to be the cannon fodder and the substance from which the martial rules of war control everything, so instead of perfecting the gift of Life, we have volunteered into a Cult of Death. When one truly delves deep into the world system this is entirely self-evident. It is a world of death and destruction and we have allowed ourselves to be the voluntary substance from which it is extracted. Our volunteer status ultimately means we have willingly participated in the destruction of life. We have never perfected the Gift of Life and the consequences are manifest all around us.

➤ WHERE EQUITIES ARE EQUAL, THE LAW WILL PREVAIL.

Law will settle matters when equities are equalized. But we have never “done equity” and therefore, we have no basis in law, we have no status or standing or capacities. We have abandoned our estate (the Gift of Life) and thereby we have neither Law or Equity, and we certainly do not have Life.

➤ BETWEEN EQUAL EQUITIES THE FIRST IN ORDER OF TIME SHALL PREVAIL.

A prior claim of rights and equities prevails, and thus, we, as a collective body, are proclaiming our Equitable Rights and Beneficial Interests, not only for ourselves but for all of humanity, because as the last maxim states below, we are the true owners as the beneficiaries of this Global Estate, if and when we perfect this Gift of Life and do what ought to be done.

➤ EQUITY WILL NOT ALLOW A STATUTE TO BE USED AS A CLOAK FOR FRAUD.

As is abundantly self-evident the current legal system based on statutes and institutionalized rape of the population and pillage of the common good is nothing more than a massive cloak for fraud. We must enter Equity to terminate such travesties of justice and pull the cloak and curtain away from the cowering wizards hiding behind their veils of illusion.

➤ EQUITY WILL NOT ALLOW A TRUST TO FAIL FOR WANT OF A TRUSTEE.

Our world and its system has been structured as a global trust. It is also an estate that we the people have abandoned, and the trust remains even though the trustees have abnegated their fiduciary duties and therefore the trustee has departed. Nevertheless, a trust will not fail for want of the trustee, and therefore what is required is we step forward as the true owners of the trust and estate and command the trustees to adhere to their duties and not run wild with pillaging the substance of the trust as we have allowed these to do for many centuries and even millennia. The time is now to say enough.

➤ EQUITY REGARDS THE BENEFICIARY AS THE TRUE OWNER.

Finally, the beneficiary, We the People, the collective body of humanity, are in fact the true owners of this trust and Global Estate. But we too have abandoned our post. We have raped and pillaged the substance and fabric of Life for our own self-interests and have abandoned the fiduciary responsibilities incumbent upon us to preserve and protect the Gift of Life. Now, the hour is late; we are almost past the point of no return. If we wish to pass on the inheritance of Life to succeeding generations then we must act, and thus, we humbly present this plan as our purpose and intention to bring forth the gifts we have been given to contribute to the solutions as required, because if one is not part of the solution then one is part of the problem. If we wish to have a world that is best for all then we must follow the maxim that to those who have shall be given more, which translates to the understanding that the duty and responsibility to bring forth a solution in this world belongs to those who have been given its gifts, and a very sacred duty it is. We accept those gifts and thus perfect them in Equitable standing, and we take upon ourselves the incumbent responsibility that such acceptance requires. Of course, the second part of that maxim states that to those who have not more shall be taken away. This indicates that the denial of Life will now have the utmost consequences for those who continue to choose to deny their responsibilities to Life and to this World. This is an individual choice for all. We are in fact the true beneficiaries of Life but we can only perfect that gift with the commitment to the responsibility that lay before us to return this World to Life, True Order and Equitable Balance.

We, the Members of the PanTerra D'Oro Society, have made that commitment and have taken upon ourselves the responsibility as required, and this is our report, our purpose and our intent; we invite all who share that commitment to join us in this most awesome Journey Back Into Life!
